"Go into the city

INTENT upon uncovering troublesome Christians and taking them to Jerusalem for punishment, an intelligent, energetic young man named Saul was traveling through the Syrian desert nearly 2,000 years ago.

Suddenly, he was thrown to the ground and blinded by a bolt from heaven. Trembling and amazed, Saul, who was to become the great St. Paul, asked, "Lord, what will you have me do?"

The Lord said to him, "Arise and go into the city and you will be told what you must do."

Although we may not be struck by a lightning bolt as was St. Paul, it is also in the "city"—our own society and individual surroundings—where we learn what we are to do with our lives. Since each man's mission in the world is defined by the particular opportunities that he receives, our duties as students in a Catholic university are distinct from those of other men and other scholars.

What are our precise opportunities which define these certain duties? All students, in their search for truth, study many of the same aspects of reality and share in the opportunity to acquire ideas.

and you will be told what you must do"

Acts 9:7

As history testifies, it is through ideas that the world is fashioned and changed. When St. Paul accepted Christ's idea of heroic sanctity, he used it to transform the Gentile world and to become a great leader of men. Newton's theories of physics recast international scientific thought. Marx's economic and social ideas have disfigured the face of the earth and have placed millions in bondage.

As the world of the past was molded by ideas, so also will our own world be fashioned. We Marquette students cannot deny, in view of this, that we will have a share in shaping the world through the ideas we now have the opportunity to grasp.

It is not the acquisition of ideas alone, however, which marks for us a definite part in re-fashioning the world. Nor is it simply the opportunity to study and grasp those revealed ideas. The revealed truths of Jesus Christ can be studied by students anywhere, but in a Catholic university, they are not confined to a certain number of credit hours. Rather, they are correctly regarded as the light in which all other knowledge is understood. Thus, our distinguishing opportunity here at Marquette is that of acquiring ideas illuminated by the truths centering around our creation, redemption and eternal destiny.

In addition to this most important academic opportunity, the many facets of the vibrant world of Marquette offer us the chance to develop our individual abilities and interests. There is the social wealth of activities and organizations, the pleasure and excitement of athletics which, while being enjoyed in themselves, help to mold and train us for that other, larger world of the future.

Awaiting each of us who has these opportunities is the definite responsibility of disseminating Christian ideas, of leading others according to rightly ordered principles, and thus transforming our particular surroundings to help make a Christian world.

These duties do not await our graduation. They began when we chose to study at a Catholic university. By our choice, we committed ourselves to the mission of making a Christian world which can only be realized if we are adequately prepared. Preparation, however, is an individual accomplishment and no amount of opportunities will benefit the student who refuses to seize them.

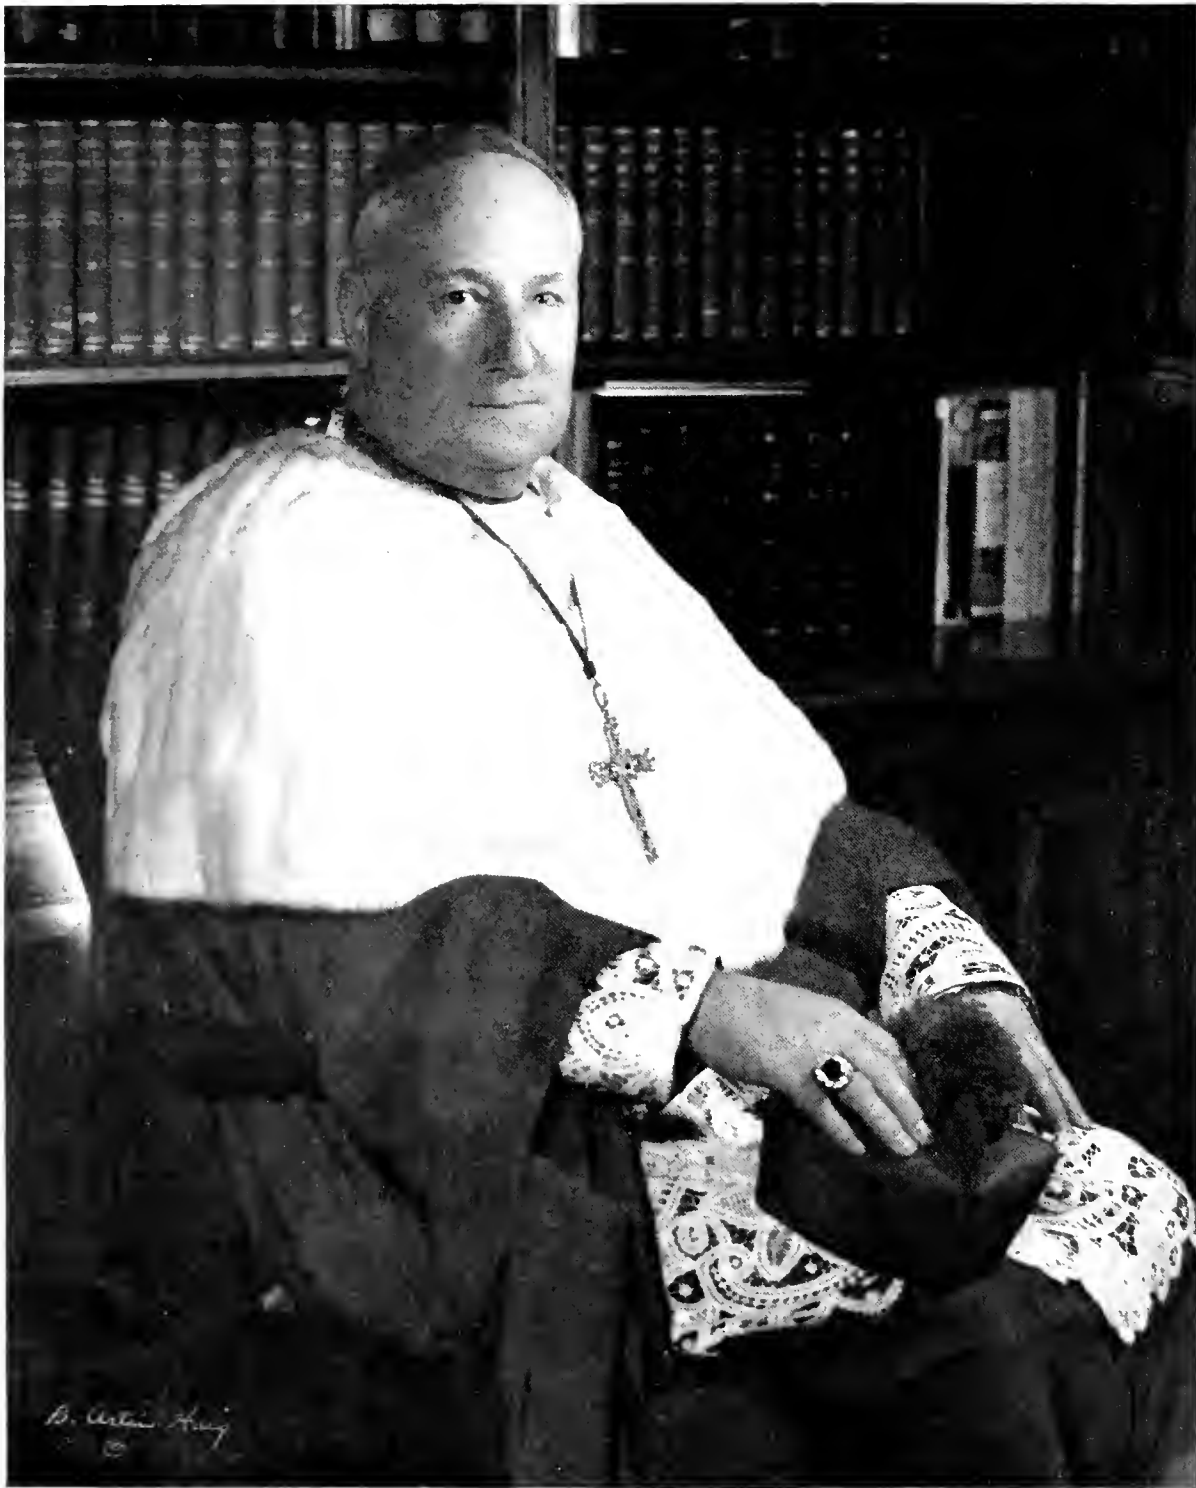

Just as the master in the Gospel parable delivered a certain number of talents to his servants and called each one to an account of them, so we students with the opportunity of a Catholic education will be held to an account of the time spent here. If we take advantage of our opportunities, we will grow with them to become truly Christian thinkers, able to assume our duty to make a Christian world. We will be able to say as did the good servant, "Master, thou didst deliver to me five talents; behold, I have gained other five over and above."

The faults and inequalities of human behavior, the emptiness of human lives around us, and the loss of moral values in our society stand as warnings to prepare ourselves well. They impel us to gather eagerly, with serious and determined purpose, a great store of knowledge and ideas rightly ordered by revealed truths while we may do so.

Before we choose to waste the time we spend at Marquette, let us remember how the master punished the servant who spent his talents foolishly: "As for the unprofitable servant, cast him forth into the darkness outside where there will be the weeping and gnashing of teeth."

The task awaiting us is tremendous. The late Archbishop of Paris, Emmanuel Cardinal Suhard, described it in a pastoral letter Growth or Decline, "For the problem is to build a new world, to define and prepare the structures which will permit man to be fully man in a city worthy of him, to transfigure all things in order to make of them a Christian world."

Archbishop William E. Cousins

DEDICATION

Upon hearing the news that Pope John XXIII had appointed Bishop William E. Cousins of Peoria, Ill. to be the new Archbishop of Milwaukee, the Very Rev. Edward J. O'Donnell, S.J., speaking for the student body said, "Marquette University joins with the Milwaukee archdiocese at the glad Christmas season in rejoicing over the appointment of his excellency, William Edward Cousins, as our new archbishop, and in offering our sentiments of congratulations and welcome."

Archbishop Cousins was born in Chicago on August 20, 1902. After being graduated from Saint Mary of the Lake Seminary, Mundelein, Ill., he was ordained by the late George Cardinal Mundelein on April 23, 1927. In 1934 Father Cousins served as Superior of the Chicago Archdiocesan Mission Band and then as pastor of St. Columbanus Church in Chicago until December 17, 1948 when he became Titular Bishop of Forma and Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago.

These facts permit only a small insight into the character of the man of whom the people of Peoria said, "Thousands of people in the Diocese—perhaps most of the people—feel that they know their Bishop personally. His tireless visits with the parish crowds after each Confirmation and his geniality have made this appointment inevitable. His priests, too, have felt in him a warm and sincere interest in their work and their problems.

The man who left Peoria to take the position of Archbishop of Milwaukee is the person whose backing put through a 14 million dollar school bond issue—a proposal that had failed the previous year when he refused to support it because its financial planning was insecure.

He is the same man under whose direction a two million dollar home for the aged, six new grade schools and eight new churches were built and five new parishes were established.

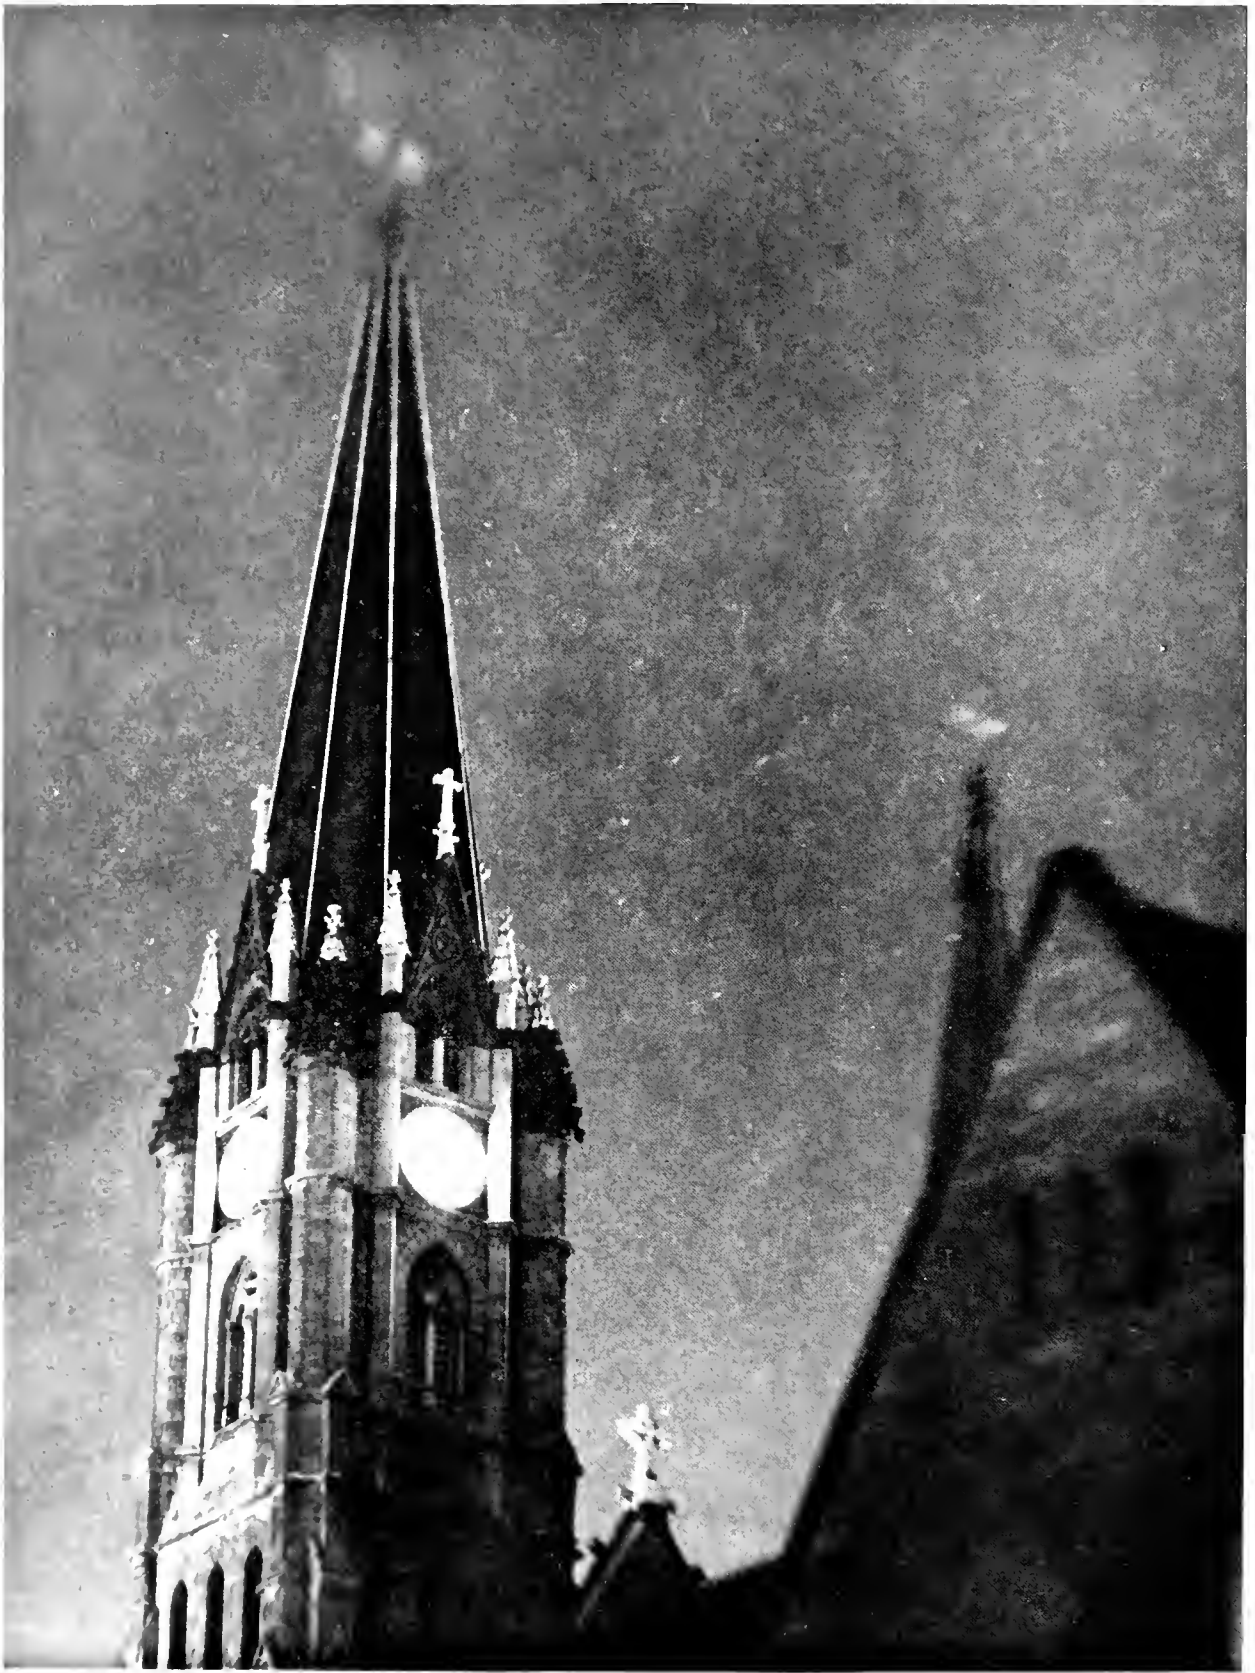

It is zealous Catholic action like this we wish to imitate both now and when the time comes for us to leave the protective shadow of Gesu.

We can take as our guiding standard the episcopal motto which stands on the Archbishop's crest, "Auxilium Meum a Domino" (My help is from the Lord).

Words of Archbishop Cousins at appointment show how he applies it in his life, "I have understandable misgivings as I look at the accomplishments of those who have gone before me. But my modest talents, directed by God's grace, are at His disposal."

Because of his outstanding Catholic leadership, we respectfully dedicate the 1959 Hilltop to Archbishop William E. Cousins in the hope that our own modest talents, so divinely directed, will also be pleasing to God.

UNIVERSITY

Gesu stands outlined against the night sky, signifying the closeness which exists between the Catholic church and Marquette University.

The significance of the symbol does not lie simply in its neo-Gothic beauty, nor in its long tradition on the campus, but in its place as the Home of God, the Source of all ideas.

Gesu Church symbolizes the revealed ideas by which other ideas available at Marquette are understood.

To accept and to propagate these ideas well, particularly those which are supernaturally given, we need strength and help above our own natural powers. This help is readily available in the many Masses and in the sacraments administered in the Church of the Gesu.

Our great opportunity is to use the means of grace to strengthen ourselves spiritually so that we can "go into the city" as truly Catholic thinkers.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Dr. John O. Riedl,
Dean

Rev. John F. Abbick, S.J.

Bellarmino Hall, Graduate School

The Marquette Graduate school was organized as an independent unit of the University in 1922.

It offers a one year program leading to a Master's degree in more than 30 areas including English, history, Latin, physics, journalism, speech, theology, oral surgery, obstetrics, radiology, business administration, education and nursing. A Doctor of Philosophy degree is also available after a three-year course in anatomy, biochemistry, biology, microbiology, pathology, pharmacology, philosophy and physiology.

The present dean, Dr. John O. Riedl, has served in that capacity since July, 1954. Rev. John F. Abbick, S.J., is the student counselor of the Graduate school.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Rev. Thomas F. Divine, S.J.
Dean

College of Business Administration

In 1950, the building housing the Robert A. Johnston College of Business Administration, was completed. The school offers day and night curricula in general business studies, general business with law or NROTC, business economics, accounting, production and personnel management, marketing (including advertising, retailing and sales management) finance, real estate and insurance, and commercial teaching.

The college offers practical experience in marketing and other fields of research through the operations of the Bureau of Business and Economic research. Seniors may intern with various midwest business organizations, dividing course time with practical job training while receiving payment for services.

The dean of the college is Rev. Thomas F. Divine, S.J. He has held this post since 1942.

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY

Miss Elizabeth M. Linn,
Director of Dental Hygiene

Dr. Oswald M. Dresen,
Dean

Rev. William H. McEvoy, S.J.

The present dental building was opened to students in 1922. A wing was added in 1957 providing facilities for children's dentistry, graduate and postgraduate research.

After two years in Liberal Arts and four years in Dental School, the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery is conferred upon a student. Master of Science, Doctor of Dental Surgery, Master of Science in oral medicine and Master of Science in oral surgery degrees are also offered. Dr. Oswald M. Dresen has been dean since 1925.

The dental school has departments of pedodontics, dental prosthetics, clinical dentistry, orthodontics, oral rehabilitation, pathology, microbiology, pharmacology and biochemistry.

The department of Dental Hygiene under the direction of Miss Elizabeth M. Linn, offers a diploma in Dental Hygiene or the degree of Bachelor of Science in public health Dental Hygiene.

Rev. William H. McEvoy, S.J. has served as student counselor of the School of Dentistry for 10 years.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Dr. A. Bernard Draught,
Dean

Rev. Stephen S. Rueve, S.J.

College of Engineering

The Marquette College of Engineering was established in 1908. Conferring degrees in civil, mechanical and electrical engineering, it offers laboratory facilities in electric machinery, electronics and high frequency equipment, automatic feedback controls, fluid power, hydraulics, materials testing, metallography, physics, chemistry, soils and surveying.

A co-op program offered after the sophomore year with the help of more than 60 firms throughout the midwest, gives the student an opportunity to learn while earning a salary in his chosen field.

Innovations in the Engineering school include a computing center, the Theodore F. Trecker memorial laboratory and a graduate program in electrical engineering.

The dean of the College of Engineering is A. Bernard Drought. Rev. Stephen J. Rueve, S.J., is the regent and student counselor.

COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM

Rev. Gerald P. Brennan, S.J.

Jeremiah L. O'Sullivan
Dean

Copus Hall, College of Journalism

The Marquette College of Journalism was instituted in 1910 by Rev. John E. Copus and has been headed by Dean J. L. O'Sullivan since 1928.

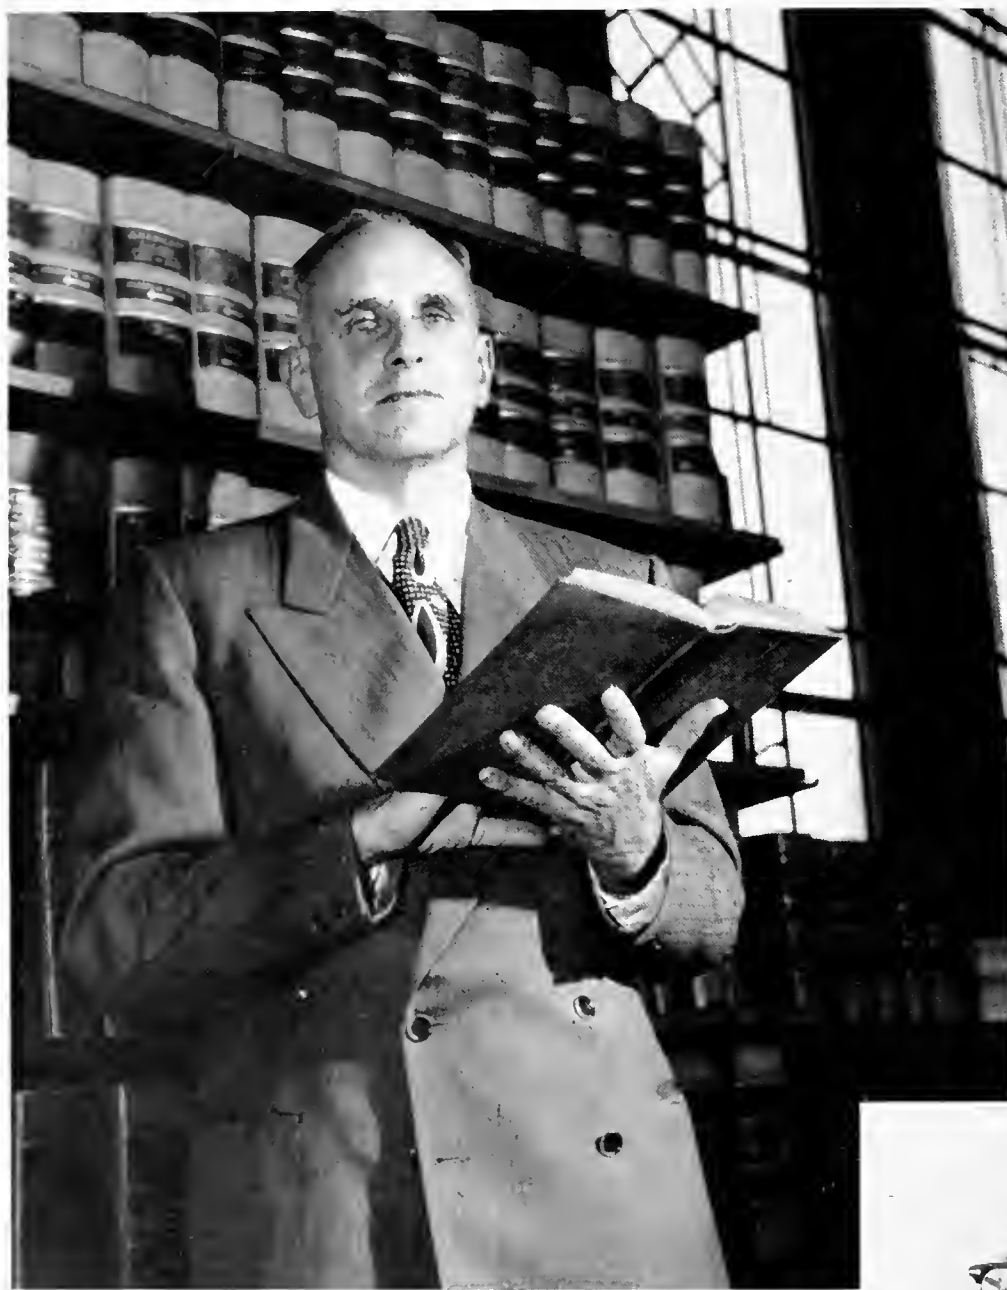

The college awards the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts. The courses of study are divided into News Editorial, Radio and Television and Advertising.

The College offers practical experience in journalism by having its students staff and administrate the Hilltop, university annual, the Journal, literary quarterly, and The Tribune, a bi-weekly newspaper. Reporting, typography, editing and copy reading provide the subject matter for three journalism laboratory courses. Additional practical experience is available by summer internship on Wisconsin weekly newspapers.

Fr. Gerald P. Brennan, S.J., has been regent of the college since 1941.

LAW SCHOOL

Dr. Reynolds C. Seitz,
Dean

Rev. James F. Orford, S.J.

In 1908, Marquette acquired the Milwaukee Law school, which had been operating for 15 years. Located only three blocks from the Milwaukee county court house, the seat of civil, circuit and county courts, the school gives students an opportunity to observe cases as they are actually tried.

Besides courses in constitutional law, criminal law, jurisprudence, appellate practice, administrative law, federal income taxation, trade regulations, creditors' rights, estate planning and taxtion, the college attempts to recreate a realistic situation by means of its moot court in which all students eventually participate.

In the senior year of their three-year course Law students must prosecute or defend cases in the court as a prerequisite to gaining the Bachelor of Laws degree.

Dean Reynolds C. Seitz has held his office since September of 1953. The Rev. James F. Orford, S.J., is the student counselor of the school.

Sensenbrenner Hall, Law School

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

Rev. Adrian J. Kochanski, S.J.,
Dean

Johnston Hall, College of Liberal Arts

In 1906 Robert Johnston presented Marquette with what is now the College of Liberal Arts.

The college offers Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees for many courses of study. Minors and majors are offered in botany, zoology, chemistry, Latin, economics, English, history, mathematics, German, French, Spanish, philosophy, physics, political science, psychology, sociology and theology. Minors are available in Asian studies, German area studies, Latin American studies, Greek, elementary education, secondary education, military and naval science and physical education.

Through the cooperation of the Milwaukee public school system, those in education courses have the opportunity to practice teach.

Rev. Adrian J. Kochanski, S.J., is the dean of the college, which also offers programs in pre-Law, pre-Dentistry and pre-Medicine.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Miss Alice M. Semrad,
Director of Medical Technology

Dr. John S. Hirschboeck,
Dean

Miss Beth J. Phillips,
Director of Physical Therapy

School of Medicine

The School of Medicine came into existence on January 14, 1913 after taking over the teaching rights and facilities of the Wisconsin College of Physicians and Surgeons. The school, under the direction of Dr. John S. Hirschboeck, boasts a faculty of more than 350 and offers degrees of Doctor of Medicine and, in cooperation with the Graduate school, also gives degrees of Master of Science, Doctor of Philosophy in the basic sciences and a Master of Science in the clinical specialties.

Officially restored to the Medical school in 1954, the department of Medical Technology offers a four-year curriculum leading to a degree of Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology. Director of the department since August 1, 1958 has been Miss Alice M. Semrad.

The department of Physical Therapy, directed by Miss Beth J. Phillips, was established in July, 1951. The first class was graduated in June, 1956.

A four-year curriculum leads to a degree of Bachelor of Science in Physical Therapy.

The Rev. Vincent J. O'Flaherty, S.J., has been student counselor of the School of Medicine since September, 1958.

COLLEGE OF NURSING

Sister M. Thomas, O.S.F.,
Dean

Rev. Vincent M. O'Flaherty, S.J.

St. Joseph's Hospital, College of Nursing

Marquette University College of Nursing came into existence in 1936 through an agreement with the Community of Franciscan Sisters, who have served St. Joseph's hospital since 1883.

Bachelor of Science degrees in Nursing are offered to qualified high school graduates and registered nurses after a full four-year curriculum. Bachelor of Science degrees in Public Health nursing are offered to registered nurses.

Working at the hospital, the student receives direct experiences in nursing under supervision, thus gaining the greatest educational value. Chemistry, microbiology, nutrition, nursing relationships and child development are a few of the specialized courses offered in the Nursing curriculum.

Sister M. Thomas Kolba, O.S.F., R.N., M.S.N.Ed., is the dean of the college and associate professor of nursing education. Student counselor is Rev. Vincent M. O'Flaherty, S.J.

SCHOOL OF SPEECH

Dr. Hugo E. Hellman,
Director

Rev. John J. Walsh, S.J.

Speech education at Marquette University has been under the direction of the School of Speech since 1926.

Closely allied with the Liberal Arts curricula, the Speech school recommends conferral of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science in Speech; Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science in Speech Correction degrees.

The school gives training in dramatics, radio and television, speech correction, public speaking and speech education.

Not only classroom work, but speech clinics, dramatic groups under the direction of Rev. John J. Walsh, S.J., a radio-television workshop and competition in national forensic and debate contests complete the program.

Dr. Hugo E. Hellman, Ph.D., professor of speech, is the director of the school.

LIBRARY

William B. Ready,
Director of Libraries

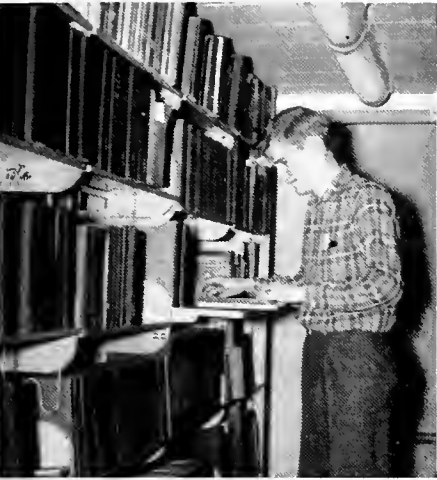

Since its opening in 1953, the library has provided a proper atmosphere for study and research. Beside the reading room pictured at left, the library also has reference, seminar and record facilities. Periodical and art collections are also housed in the building.

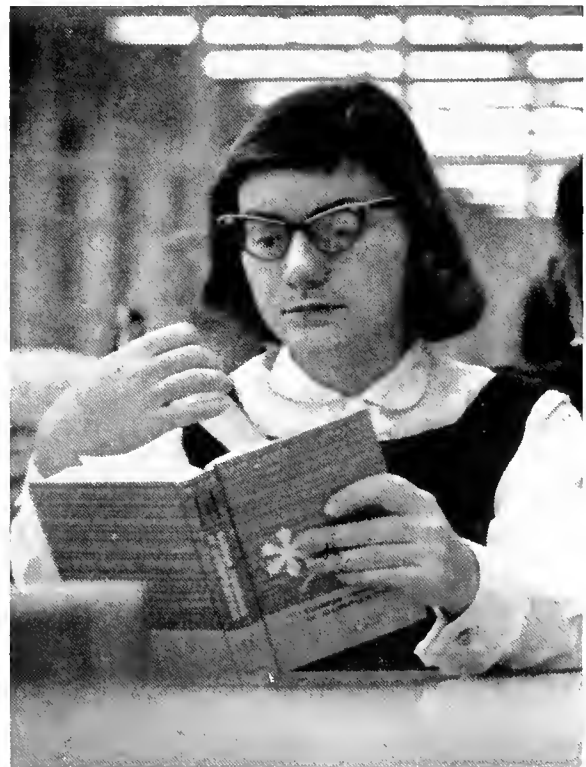

An "off the cuff" comment provides a relaxing moment from the tension of study.

The library's large collection of works proves valuable for research.

And when study becomes too tiring, there's usually some place where students can relax.

Freshman students soon become acquainted with the facilities of the library.

SENIORS

The years of studying and receiving counsel culminate in the day of graduation.

We may often picture ourselves as marvelously transformed individuals leaving the stage with our degree in hand. We think we will enter a completely strange world which we have been calling "the city."

The "city" differs from the society in which we live during our education mostly in amount of responsibility. Although the university is a comparatively sheltered "city," it presents many and definite responsibilities, which we must meet in the future. While we are students, our opportunities and duties are to acquire knowledge illuminated by revealed ideas. Upon graduation, these duties include the spreading of those ideas to make a Christian world.

Because our life in the university prefigures the rest of our life, we know how we will act in the "city" from the way we have lived as students.

If we have accepted the responsibility of carrying out the role of true Christian students, chances are that as good Christian citizens, we will aid in building a Christian world.

ACTIVITIES

The myriad activities which surround us in the form of plays, dances, or preparing for a campus event, give us many chances for self-expression.

Most of us are justified in taking advantage of our social opportunities. Activities are fun, and having fun is a part of life. While enjoying ourselves, we are also able to develop our talents and interests, becoming more complete individuals through jazz concerts in the Union, plays in Teatro Maria, Varieties practice or Campus Carnival participation.

Through studies and activities, we simultaneously develop talents used by engineers and musicians, lawyers and actors, teachers and dancers, accountants and artists.

While we do not have to be urged to participate in pleasant activities, we have to remind ourselves that these are only a part of the living, varied, whole Catholic university.

WELCOME

Freshman royalty were crowned with feathers at the Howdy Hop. Looking surprised were Queen Lynda Metz, Physical Therapy, and King Dennis Walsh, Engineering.

"Yes, We Are Collegiate" was the theme of the fashion show presented by the Sophomore Coed board. Graeff modeled her dress and muff for freshmen. Grow, Doris Burczyk, and Maureen Borry.

WEEK

The hot dogs tasted twice as good after the run up and down Maryhill.

Rules may have been disregarded, but the volley ball game before lunch was still fun.

Mid-September caught freshmen Warriors in a whirl of Welcome Week activities sponsored by the Welcome Week council. A Howdy Hop in the Union on Sunday, September 14, began the fun-filled week of parties, picnics, a style show, and sleepless nights.

On Wednesday, September 17, the new Warriors received their first taste of university life — registration. But if they were somewhat depressed by the long lines, they didn't stay that way, for on Saturday, September 20, the Marquette football team gave them a real "welcome" by defeating South Dakota State, 18-7.

CONVOCATION

Deans of the various colleges assembled at the annual President's Convocation in the Milwaukee auditorium to present awards to students for outstanding scholastic achievement.

MU president, the Very Rev. E. J. O'Donnell, S.J., discussed opportunities for excellence at the annual convocation on October 16. In his speech to the student body, Father O'Donnell stated that "Marquette has never been in a better position to achieve excellence than now since we are the largest Catholic university in the country."

Scholastic leaders from nine of the university's schools and its two military departments were honored at the convocation. Recognition was also given members of Gamma Pi Epsilon and Alpha Sigma Nu, national Jesuit honor societies. The MU chorus provided vocal entertainment.

Early in October the Rev. George Bischofberger, S.J., consecrated O'Donnell hall and other dormitories to the Sacred Heart.

'THREE

In a deserted stable, Mackie the Knife celebrates his wedding with Polly Peachum

A streetsinger (Roy Levy) drew attention to show cards on which the "Three Penny Opera" plot was synopsised and developed.

Distraught parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonoth J. Peachum (Norman Volk and Judy Ebe) wailed when they learned their daughter had run away to marry Mack the Knife.

John Loose, who played three roles, Charles Filch, the Rev. Kimboll and the queen's messenger, received special assistance from Joanne Kalando.

The Marquette Players set a Milwaukee record for longevity with their production of the "Three Penny Opera" by Bertold Brecht and Kurt Weill. Directed by the Rev. John J. Walsh, S.J., the play was presented over 50 times to packed houses in Teatro Maria.

The nature of the plot is sarcastic and bitter though entertaining. It tells the story of Mac Heath, a London bandit (Stewart Moss), whose infamous crimes earned him the title of Mack the Knife, and of the men and women in his life. Mack's criminal episodes come to a melodramatic end as he awaits his hanging.

PENNY OPERA'

Hang down your head Mack the Knife. Poor boy you're bound to die.

A wedding song by Mack the Knife, left, and the sheriff, "Tiger" Brown (H. Eldan Miller) brought a temporary truce between crime and law for the old Army "buddies."

Mack the Knife had a last fling with an old flame, Lucy Brown (Suzanne Prestan).

Toasting the wedding of Pally Peachum (Kit Smythe) and Mack the Knife (Stewart Mass) was Mack's second-in-command, Matthew the Maach (Pete Banerz).

FALL RUSHING

"Girl of My Dreams" was the theme of rushing parties held for fall sorority applicants in October. Following these parties, girls were chosen to pledge. The pledging began in November when aspirants donned sorority blazers and beanies. Thirty-eight rushees worked on sorority projects and served "actives" in the Union as well as at the ironing board.

As an Irish leprechaun, rushee Judy Popek played her harp for Joanne Steinbruner, president of Delta Sigma Gamma.

Costumed rushees Sally Prijic, Ruth Mayer, Judy Santilli, and Mary Ann Vogl attended a Chi Sigma Chi rushing party.

BROOKS COUNCIL

Brooks council is the means of communication between the student body and Union management at Marquette. From its office in the southwest corner of the Union grill, the council supervises and originates student activities in the Union.

Throughout the year the council, headed by Pat Meade, Business Administration senior, sponsored a concert by the Milwaukee Catholic Symphony orchestra, periodic jazz sessions in the Union grill, campus mixers, bridge lessons, tournaments for the students, and various other activities.

Ed Killian took the lead in a tenor sax solo during a jazz concert held in the union grill.

Neil Martin on the drums and Dick Hoviland on boss sent out a "Big Noise From Winnetka."

"Hornin'" around were John Mohrfeld, Jim Koetting (UW-M student) and Steve de Shazer.

HOMECOMING

"MU Conquers the Pacific" was the theme of Delta Sigma Pi's winning house decorations in the fraternity division. The decorations featured a large semi-globe resting on a Bengal's back. The post was portrayed in encircling figures illuminated successively by a minute hand, giving the structure a clock-like illusion.

Sigma Phi Delta won second prize in the fraternity division with their house decoration prediction of "COP's on the Rocks" showing a huge lighthouse with a COP boat crashing into the rocks at its base.

Working on a diamond frame for Sigma Phi Delta's float were Dick Parker and Dan Briseldan.

The Warriors followed the Homecoming theme, "Reflections of the Past," and gave deserving Marquette boosters their first Homecoming victory since 1951, defeating College of the Pacific's Bengal Tigers, 27-18.

Forty floats and ten bands, comprising America's longest Homecoming parade, heralded the traditional event down Wisconsin avenue on October 24. A cheering contest followed at the lake-front where the College of Liberal Arts out-yelled the College of Engineering.

The Homecoming crowd of 10,711 was tense, hoping for a second season win. When Marquette took the lead and kept it, the frantic fans tore down the goalposts, and the overjoyed team carried Coach John Druze off the field.

The climax to the successful and victorious Homecoming game was the dance, October 25, at the Milwaukee auditorium which was attended by a record 3,700.

Combining a "We'll Beach 'Em" theme, a clear-sounding "By the Sea" recording and effective animation, Chi Sigma Chi placed first in the sorority float division.

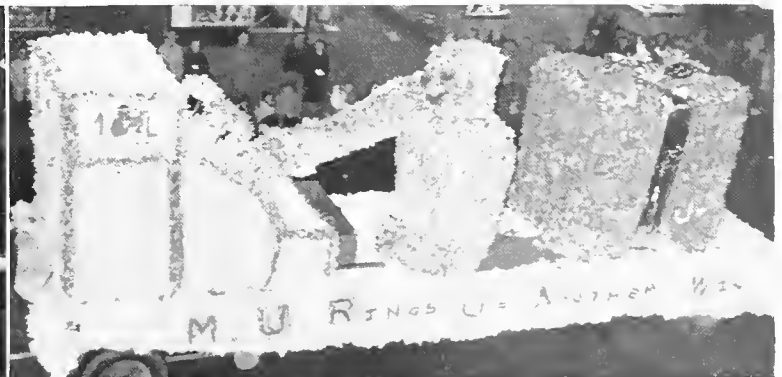

Dormitory competition keyed the 1958-1959 Homecoming button-selling campaign. Here, Mary Lou Tapa represented the Indian maidens from Alumnae House.

"Send 'Em South Manana" commanded Iota Chi Omega with their float featuring a large Mexican hat.

An abstract illusion of "Reflections of the Past" was created by Sigma Phi Delta, first place winner in the fraternity division. The float featured a huge, transparent sphere containing a revolving unit spelling out the theme. It was illuminated by lighting within the diamond-shaped glabe.

Ringin' up another win was an over-sized Warrior on an even larger cash register. The float, entered by Evans Scholars, won second place in the organization division.

REFLECTIONS OF

A "Western welcome" was given to the College of Pacific team when they arrived in town before the October 25 Homecoming game. MU California students formed a car parade to greet the "Bengals."

The Marquette band, under the direction of Mr. William J. Geisheker, paraded at half-time during the Homecoming game.

An old-fashioned horse-drawn surrey supported the Delta Sigma Gamma float and "Yes, Surrey Victory" theme. The float placed second in the sorority division.

In the dormitory division, a Bengal Tiger was rocked in a large cradle by girls from Alumnae house in order to "Pacify the Pacific."

Bottom Row: Mani Hennessy, Judy O. Rocol, Stephanie Slack, sec.; Thomas A. Dincher, pres.; Daniel M. Byrnes, vice-pres.; Mary E. Stadler.

A stunned crowd watched as MU Warriors trapped the Bengal Tigers.

Cheerleaders Jackie Ennis, Gary Orman, Bab Snyder, Bill Schatz, Bill Halversharn and Nancy Noeske performed special stunts for a special game.

"Peanuts," called out "Tinkle" Erickson in her rendition of the "Peanut Vendor Song."

MUSICAL VARIETIES

The Kappa Beta Gamma Three did acappella harmonizing to a few barber shop tunes.

Sailor-girl Mory Kircher sang about "that jolly old girl of the sea."

Everything from operatic arias such as Puccini's "One Fine Day" to a jazz rendition of "Oodles of Noodles" rang through the Marquette University High School auditorium during the 16th annual Marquette Musical Varieties show on Saturday, November 22.

Seventeen acts competed for trophies in the instrumental, musical specialty and vocal categories. Winners were Barbara Brodzeller, Nursing junior, sponsored by Theta Phi Alpha, instrumental category; Anne "Tinkle" Erickson, Liberal Arts junior, representing Chi Sigma Chi, musical specialty category; Alicia Ward, Liberal Arts senior, sponsored by the Inter-residence Hall council, vocal category.

"You've got trouble," shouted Bob Colonna as he impersonated Harry Hill of the "Music Mon."

Sherry Lou Daley looked pensive as she awaited her turn at Varieties practice.

Varieties council: Top Row: Neil R. Wienser, Patricia Ann Fox, Karen E. McCorthy, Robert W. Pirsein, Jan Houser, Ralph M. Regner, Miriam H. Schuler, June M. Peternel, John W. Stork. Bottom Row: Bruce A. Thompson, treas.; Stephen H. Treacy, Allen J. Nash, pres.; James E. Zochor, Gerald W. Sazomo, vice-pres.

Queen Carol Gleason and King Francis Jacoby reigned over the 1958 Greek Meet.

Soft music, crystal chandeliers, and Greek theater masks set the stage for the 18th annual Greek Meet formal dance at the Schroeder Hotel ballroom, November 7. Reigning were Queen Carol Gleason, Dental Hygiene senior and president of the Intersorority council, and her escort, Francis X. Jacoby, Engineering senior.

The Intersorority council sponsored the event. Senior members of the council and their escorts formed the queen's court.

GREEK MEET

Dancing under Schraeder hotel chandeliers in formal attire were MU coeds and their Greek Meet dates.

The royal couple joined the Greek Meet crowd in a waltz.

Fraternity members and their dates watched the awarding of the Mr. Fraternity trophy.

IFC DANCE

Leo Scherer, Engineering senior, was named Mr. Fraternity at the annual Interfraternity council dance, December 5. Representing Triangle, Leo was chosen from eight candidates by the votes of sorority and fraternity members.

A "Silver Bell Ball" theme was carried out by glistening bells and an 18-foot Christmas tree at the dance held in the Eagle's Aerie ballroom.

At the IFC intermission, Margie Cummings, William Mulligan, Richard Krocka, Kris Houland and George Metrey found a moment for relaxation.

Marv Kuypers, Gogi Voss, Bill McGavern and Sally Beasley sat out a few dances.

Queen Bette Winings, Speech senior, and her escort Gerald Engeldinger, Law sophomore, passed under a sabre arch after her coronation as queen of the Military ball.

MILITARY BALL

Bette Winings, Speech senior, commanded the attention of the ROTC students and their dates when she was commissioned Honorary Regimental Commander at the annual Military ball, December 13, in Brooks Memorial Union.

Forming her court as honorary officers were Anita Heckman, Nursing senior; Gayle Krompart, Journalism senior; Carol Langenberg, Medical Technology sophomore; and Carol Nevins, Liberal Arts sophomore.

Outgoing royalty Jackie Ennis crowned Carol Downing "Rose of Delta Sig" at the annual Rose party.

LOUIS ARMSTRONG

Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong and the Armstrong All-Stars performed at Delta Sigma Gamma's third annual jazz concert, December 8, at the Marquette High School auditorium.

With a handkerchief in one hand and his golden horn in the other, "Satchmo" thrilled Marquette jazz lovers with "Saints Come Marchin' In," "Blueberry Hill" and other jazz classics.

Satchmo employed his famous scat-singing technique on the opening vocal, "Sleepy Time Down South."

Mort Herbert and "Peonuts" Hucko joined the King of Jazz in a swing rendition of "Bosin Street Blues."

ISC COFFEE HOUR

On December 4, 9, and 11, the Inter-sorority council sponsored coffee hours in order to acquaint coeds with members of the various sororities.

The coffee hours were held prior to spring rushing in the Union faculty lounge.

Kathy Zahany, Chi Sigma Chi, filled out a name tag for Judy O'Reilly, president of Koppa Beta Gamma, at the Inter-sorority coffee hour.

Sue Strassman poured coffee for Peggy Selz and Donna Lyons.

Orientation leaders are chosen each year to acquaint freshmen with campus life. Leaders for 1958-59 were, Top Row: Judy A. Huppert, Mary C. Kelnhafer, Patricia A. Krieg, Sigrid E. Dietrich, Nael J. Kane, Margaret M. Kowalske, Alicia Ward. Middle Row: Georgia Wagner, Carol A. Bezousek, Camille Lentino, Jan R. Belmont, Emilie Jason, Judy C. Kramer, Mani Hennessy. Bottom Row: Donna M. Fantozzi, Carol L. Gleason, Judy A. Soderstrom, chairman; Miss Ruth Mac-Mahan, moderator; Sue M. Strassman, Kathy A. Pollock.

Orientation leader Barbara Metzelle discussed religion, study techniques and social activities at Marquette with Mary Kaegel, Gail Kakal, Judi Lindbert, Joann Melchiorre and Judy Kelly, members of her weekly class.

TWIN SISTER PROGRAM

Freshman dorm-dwellers met city commuters at the two Twin Sister parties, November 5 and January 13. Sponsored by the Sophomore Coed board, the program gave the city girl a chance to experience dorm life and the dorm-dweller an opportunity to go home with her twin for a home-cooked meal.

Calleen Bannen, center, Sophomore Coed Board member explained the "Twin Sister" program to Judy Haines, Carol Gasper and June Pandolfi.

Donna Herriges and Judi Hancur welcomed their "Twin Sisters," Jean Winzenburg and Nancy Frank, to the dorm during a "Twin Sister" weekend.

Sophomore Coed Board members were: Top Row: Sally D. Prijic, Mary Anne Puechner, Patsy J. Murphy, Mary Lee Smullen, Pat N. Ullrich. Middle Row: Sue A. Campbell, Kay M. Carnell, Janie Siegel, Kay L. Graeff, Kathleen E. Hug, Jane E. Kleiner. Bottom Row: Kate T. Dermady, sec.; Annette J. Cialli, pres.; Jane A. Quick, treas.; Sue A. Dackendorff, vice-pres.; Calleen M. Bannen.

From an overlooking balcony Queen Mani Hennessey, Liberal Arts senior, and her date Don Sifferman, Engineering senior, reigned over 1959 Holly Ball dancers in the Pfister hotel ballroom.

Jean Burroughs, Women's Student council vice-president, placed a crown fit for a queen on Mani's head.

Marquette coeds and their dates crystallized the Christmas season with the 1959 Holly Ball held January 10 in the Fern and East ballrooms of the Pfister hotel.

Neil Martin's 14-piece "New Sound" band provided music for the event. Blue and silver decorations and a silhouetted couple dancing on a glistening ball of angel hair created a "crystal illusion."

Spotlighted silver trees surrounded the queen's throne from which newly-crowned Mani Hennessey, Women Student council president, reigned for the evening.

HOLLY BALL

Fred Muth marshalled the Grand March at the "Crystal Illusions of Grandeur" dance. He was followed by the king and queen, and members of the court.

After the crowning, Moni, Women's Student council president, reigned as queen in the white Italian silk dress of her own design.

Moni and Don forgot their royal duties for a moment to join the dancing crowd.

Introduced as members of the Court of Honor were Libby Lindsay, Dennis Factor, Judy Kramer, Francis X. Jacoby, Joanne O'Malley and William Pier.

ANNIE GET YOUR GUN

Early in December the Marquette Players presented their third revival of "Annie Get Your Gun."

The engaging story of Annie Oakley, who is smart enough to know that she can't win a man with a gun, and Buffalo Bill, (Norman Volk) who falls in love with her, was a change from the more serious theme of the Players' record-breaking "Threepenny Opera."

Above: Chief Sitting Bull (Roymond Smith) tried to reassure Annie Oakley (Nancy Tigue Farley) that they always carried on like this when they took in new members.

Left: "Well, what do you know? I'm an Indian, too," said Annie while Chief Little Horse (Lyle Novinski) and Chief Sitting Bull looked on.

Lillie Logon (Marlene Kelly) and Pearl Cleorey (Patricio Roinier) tried to help Chorley Davenport (Pete Bonerz) find out "Who's got the show that made the Wild West wild."

GRAD ASSOCIATION ACTIVITIES

The Graduate Association has three aims: the religious, intellectual and social development of its members. During the year it arranged symposiums, retreats, educational events and dances for its members.

Eugene Drzycimski, Diane Mawson and Richard McGarrity enjoyed a Graduate Association social event at the Tower hotel in September.

Coffee quenched the thirst of Peter Moxwell and the other graduate students who attended the Superior Student program.

CAMPUS CARNIVAL

Osborne Hall sponsored "Cartoon Capers."

Valentine's Day provided the theme for Marquette's fourth annual Campus Carnival. Cupids and hearts surrounded the gym and decorated the booths.

Delta Sigma Gamma won first place for an organization of more than 40 members, sponsoring a carnival jail, "Cupid's Castle." In the same category, Theta Phi Alpha won second place with its booth, "Theta Phi Rock-a-Bye."

Kappa Beta Gamma and Delta Sigma Pi won first and second place respectively for prize-giving booths sponsored by organizations with 40 or more members.

Loyola Hall's house of horrors, "Cupid's Cavern" won first prize for an organization of less than 40 members sponsoring a non-prize-giving booth. The Math club won first prize with their "Dart a Heart" booth, a prize-giving booth sponsored by an organization of less than 40 members.

Kappa Beta Gamma's ring toss attracted many of the carnival participants.

Some were more serious about winning than others.

Anyone who tried this trick knew why they used plastic dishes.

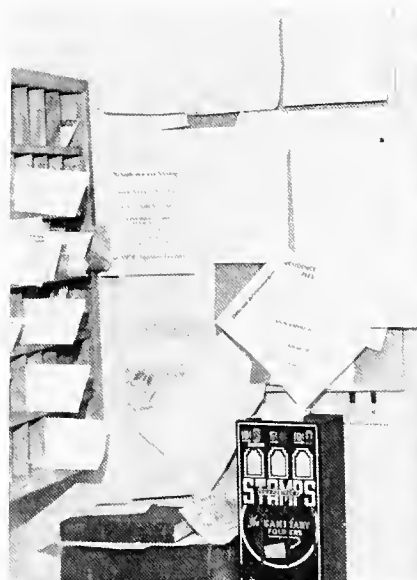

It wasn't easy to decide what to see and do first.

The Evans Scholars gave Humpty-Dumpties as prizes.

DORMITORY LIFE

Joy Ireton and Sue Bodary, Liberal Arts freshmen from Dayton, Ohio, were only two of the 1,200 coeds who lived in campus dormitories this year. But their days at O'Donnell Hall were typical of dorm life, and other coeds may see a reflection of their own days in the following pages.

At 10 a.m., the scene was always the same as the girls waited anxiously for the mail to be sorted.

was the start of another class day for Joy. After she awakened her roommate, Sue, she dressed and made a visit to the chapel.

With books in hand, Joy and Sue left for their morning classes.

Tam Kasun, Bus. Ad. junior from Milwaukee, walked Jay back to the dorm after classes.

Jay and Sue studied for a while before dinner. Their fish, Derrick, tracted them for a minute.

A phone call took Jay away from the movie.

Bridge was a popular afternoon pastime.

After the game, Sue and Jay watched television in the lounge.

At five o'clock, Joy went down to the cafeteria for a family-style dinner.

At eight o'clock Tom and Joy left for the movies.

After dinner the girls dressed for their dates. Here Joy adjusted Sue's beads.

Before going to bed, Joy set her hair. It was the end of another day.

Back from the date, Tom waited while Joy signed in at the dorm.

WINTER

Maryhill with its ski hills, woods and chalet set the scene for weeks of winter sports after an abundant 1959 Milwaukee snowfall.

The Rev. Raphael H. Hochhaus, S.J., moderator of the Avalanche club, waited for his chance to try the snow-covered trails.

Races were one of the main events at Winter Carnival.

Chuck McKenna, president of the Avalanche club, started downhill and ended in a slalom during one of the races at Winter Carnival.

CARNIVAL

Students rode one of the Maryhill tows to the top of the hill.

Relaxing and warming up by the fire-side was welcomed by Avalanchers after the biting hilltop wind.

Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Avalanche club, was held February 6-8 at Maryhill near Sussex, Wisconsin.

Maryhill is owned and operated by the Avalanche club, under the direction of the Rev. Raphael H. Hochhaus, S.J. Members take work hikes on Saturdays and Sundays to work on the construction and clear the hill.

Among the new attractions at Maryhill this year were a new towhouse and the addition of two more tows.

Winter Carnival wouldn't have been complete without the traditional Avalanche square dances.

SPRING

Rushees met Kappa Beta Gamma actives at the first party in the faculty dining room on February 12.

Mary Mayers offered a Bachelor's Carnation to Mary Ann Timmerman, who portrayed French Spice, at Kappa Beta Gamma's costume party.

With fiery red pitchfork and tail clutched in her hand, Diane Herra attended Kappa Beta Gamma's costume party as Devil's Red lipstick.

RUSHING

Right: A Chinese artist (Sandy Fredrick) brought her modern painting (Camille Taglia) to the Delta Sigma Gamma party.

Freshman and sophomore coeds discovered the meaning of "rushing" when they attended sorority spring parties held February 10 through March 12 at Brooks Memorial Union.

Since the second series of parties required costumes, coeds raced through dorms or rummaged through attics to find out-of-the-ordinaries to complete their outfits.

After spring rushing the pledge period began and continued until formal initiation in May.

Billie Galka was ready to strike up an old-fashioned square dance for Delta Sigma Gamma's actives.

There was time for meditation between conferences.

RETREAT

The annual general retreat for all full-time students in Liberal Arts, Business Administration, Journalism, and Speech took place March 16, 17 and 18.

Fr. J. Robert Koch, S.J., president of Detroit University high school, conducted the women's retreat in the Medical school auditorium. Fr. Felix F. Talbot of the New England province conducted the men's retreat in upper Gesu church.

Throughout the year students were able to make weekend retreats at Johnston hall and at the Cenacle.

Religious pamphlets were available for the retreatants.

Moss was offered for the retreatants in the Dental school chapel.

There was opportunity to go to confession between conferences.

FATHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

"Belles and Beaux" was the theme of the 1959 Father-Daughter banquet held in the Union ballroom on Sunday, March 1.

Fr. Robert Dressman, S.J., was the featured speaker. Bob Colonna and "Tinkle" Erickson provided musical entertainment.

Darla and Carla Mera, twin Liberal Arts freshmen from Rockford, Ill., won the "Belles and Beaux" essay contest, part of the banquet, sponsored by the Intersorority council.

Belles and their beaux helped themselves at the buffet-style dinner.

Marian Hayman, Liberal Arts junior, pinned a boutonniere on her father, Harold T. Hayman.

Liberal Arts junior, Sania Ratajska, served her father, Z. R. S. Ratajska

Seated at the speaker's table were Mary Alice Cannon, dean of women, Robert E. Clancy, Patricia Clancy, chairman of the banquet and the Very Rev. Edward J. O'Dannell, S.J.

R. M. Gmeiner got a helping hand from his niece, Charlene Haltgreven, Journalism sophomore.

Youth, vitality and excitement were the "Three Wishes" of Delta Sigma Gamma.

The 17th annual Varsity Varieties was presented on March 8, 9 and 10 this year. The program was sponsored by the MU Varieties council and included acts in the dormitory, fraternity, sorority, organization and individual categories.

Delta Sigma Gamma placed first in the sorority division. The fraternity award went to Triangle. Alumnae House won first place among dormitories, and in the individual competition, vocalist Susan Preston was the winner.

Harlequin awards were given to individuals in skits who did outstanding work in particular fields.

Ellen Roche sprinkled Libby Lindsay with sparkle.

Chi Sigma Chi's chorus rehearsed for its skit.

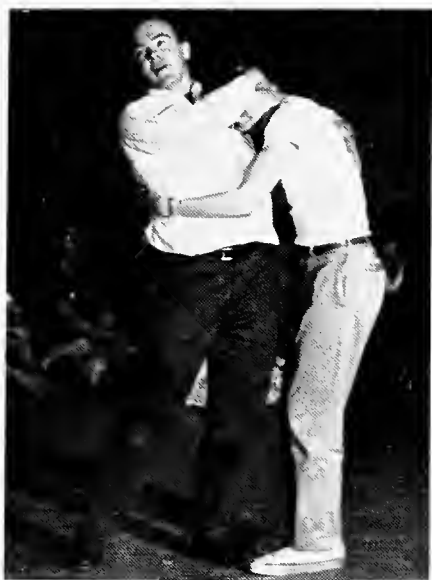

Anchar and Chain presented a parody on campus life.

A male chorus line headed for a fall.

VARSITY VARIETIES

Tam Dincher and Bob Skach rehearsed for "Perils of Lily," Triangle's winning skit.

Tam Dincher portrayed Mrs. Fairweather.

Lily's hero Edsel (Bob Brehm) saved her from the villain, Tedious J. Impossible.

Bob Skach portrayed Lily.

Cole Porter music provided the theme for Theta Phi Alpha's skit.

A clown (Judy Adams) reminisced about old circus days in O'Dannell hall's skit entitled "Forget Your Traubles."

Between shows, stagehands relaxed in a quick game of cards.

Delta Sigma Pi actors were gilded for their Macbeth skit, winning the fraternity special effects award.

"Anything Goes" sang the Alumnae House chorus as dancers did the finale of "23 Skidoo," winning first place in the dormitory division.

Georgia Dominski portrayed a drum and won a harlequin for individual dancing in Chi Sigma Chi's skit, "Recipe for Jazz."

Susan Preston sang "Summertime" and "Il Bacio," winning first place in the individual category.

Sigma Phi Delta wore military green in their musical skit entitled "Wearing of the Green."

CAREERS IN COMMUNICATIONS

Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, sponsored its fourth annual Careers in Communications day conference March 7 in Brooks Memorial Union.

High school and college students were invited to the conference to become acquainted with the problems in the various areas of mass communications.

Mr. Lucas G. Staudacher, associate professor of journalism, judged high school newspapers and suggested improvements to the editors.

High school students inspected a display featuring prize-winning pictures.

Tam Lorusung, Dave Faran and Jim Aehl, president of Sigma Delta Chi, looked over a stereoplate made for the Careers in Communications day conference.

Hazel Brannon Smith, publisher of four Mississippi newspapers and a civil rights advocate, spoke to women journalism students at the annual Matrix dinner held April 12 at the Astor hotel. The dinner was sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalism fraternity for women.

Members of the Matrix Planning committee were: Top Row: Jan Houser and Martha Meinert; Middle Row: Joann McLaughlin and Mary Jelen; Bottom Row: Judy Walsh, Sharan Shinnors and Dawn Gibeau.

Queen Peggy Smith and King Dick Buechel were the royalty at the 1959 Marquettillion.

FORMAL PROM

"Roman Garden" was the theme of the 1959 Marquettillion held April 17 in George Devine's ballroom.

Bob Stevens and Jerry Blake provided the music while Marquette students and their dates danced amid Roman columns and water fountains.

Dick Buechel, Liberal Arts senior, and Peggy Smith, Nursing freshman, reigned as king and queen.

The Bob Stevens band provided some of the music for the prom-goers.

Kris Houland and Jack Kircher helped spray the decorations.

SPEAKERS

The 27th annual Marquette Aquinas lecture, held in Brooks Memorial Union March 8, featured William Oliver Martin, chairman of the University of Rhode Island philosophy department. Professor Martin spoke on "Metaphysics and Ideology."

Fr. Robert North, S.J., director of the Jerusalem branch house of the Rome Pontifical Biblical Institute, gave a series of talks and showed films on Jerusalem Nov. 5, 6, 7 and 9.

Fr. Robert C. Dressman, S.J., talked with members of the audience following his address to the Association of MU Women January 16 on "Women of Japan."

Stressing support to the tax credit plan for education was William Proxmire, Democratic senator from Wisconsin, who appeared before 200 students February 13 in the Science building.

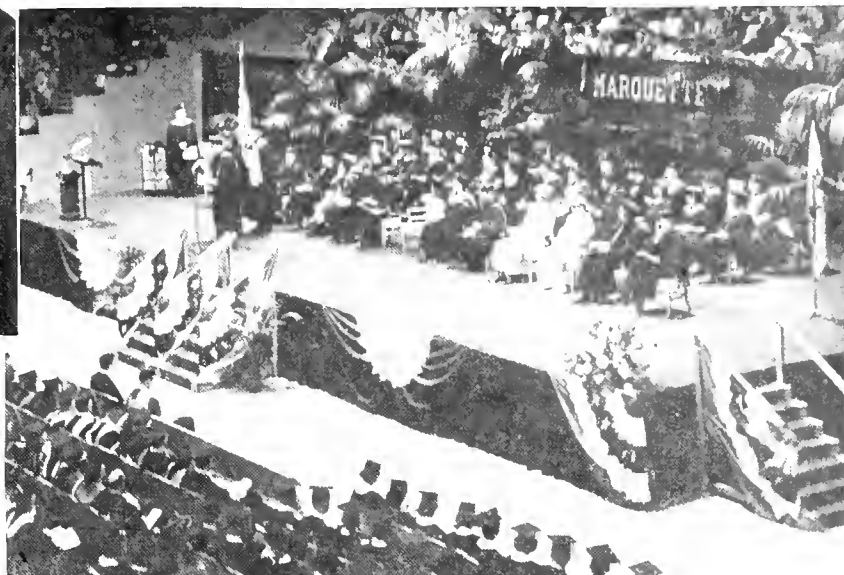

Dr. Enrique Suarez de Puga, Spanish Consul General to the U.S. in Chicago, spoke to MU students on "The Great Spanish Masters of Art" Jan. 13. He also told them of scholarship opportunities for study in Spain.

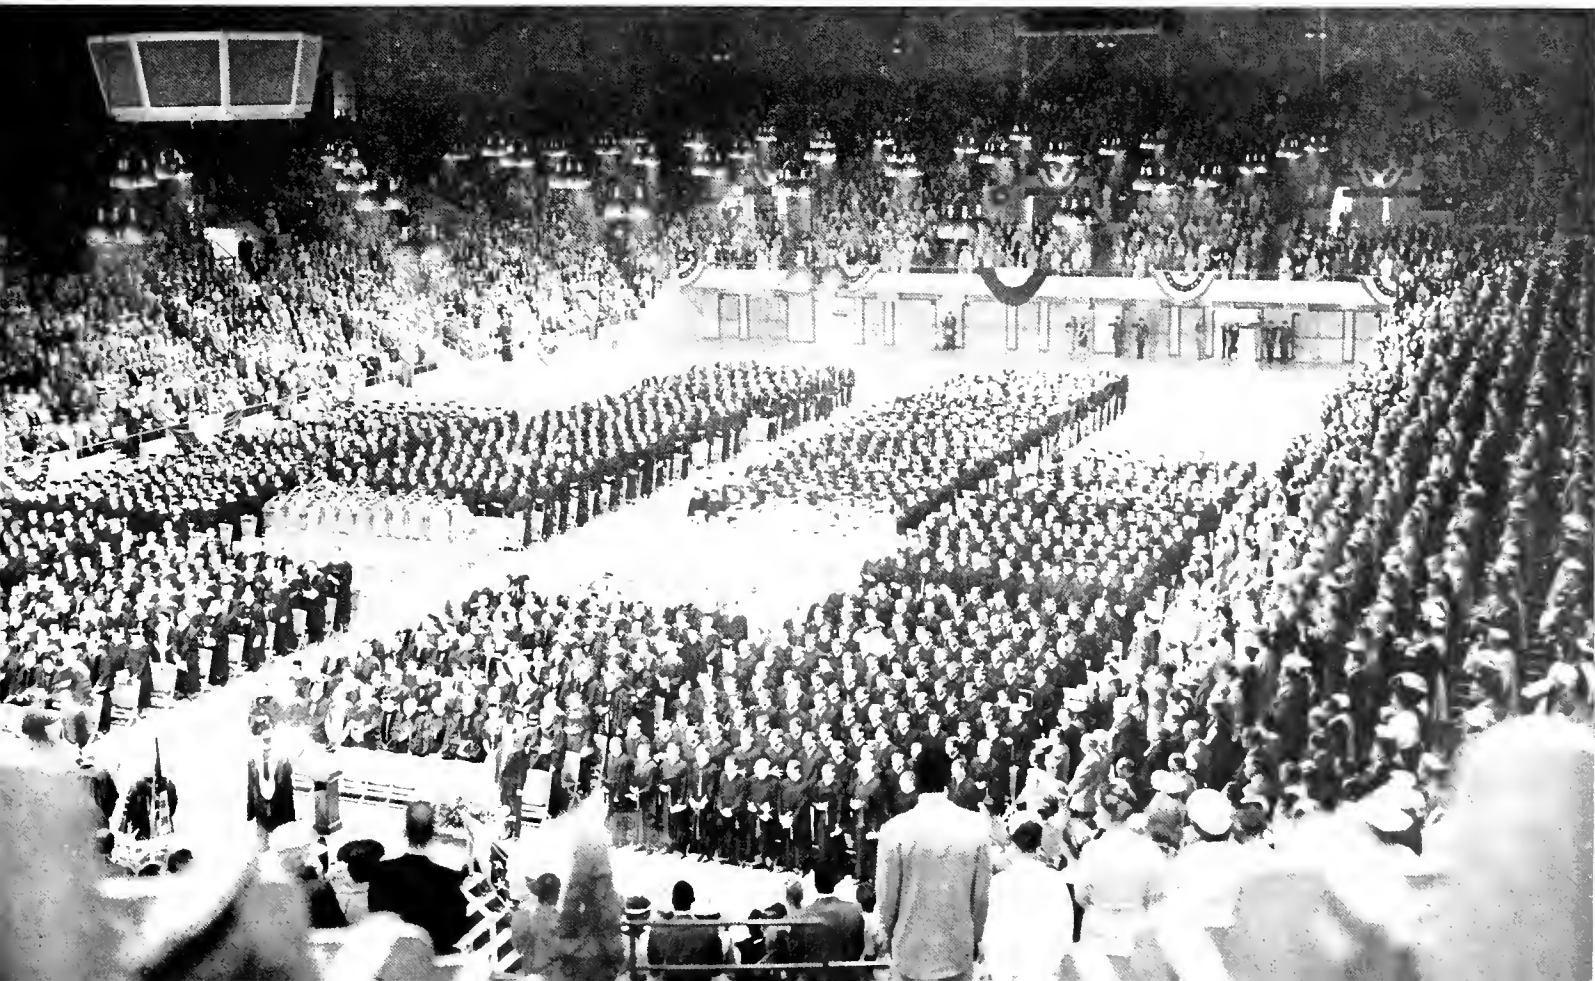

At 1958 graduation were Frank Luther Mott, Dean emeritus of journalism at the University of Missouri; Keyes DeWitt Metcalf, librarian emeritus and former director of the Harvard university library; the Very Rev. Edward J. O'Donnell, S.J., president of Marquette, and Dr. William S. Middleton, former dean of medicine at the University of Wisconsin and now chief medical officer, Veterans' Administration, Washington, D.C.

GRADUATION

Climaxing Senior Week activities was the 1958 Commencement held in the Milwaukee auditorium. A baccalaureate program was held on June 8.

ORGANIZATIONS

The chance to join other members of campus organizations in activities as professional as broadcasting, as enjoyable as singing, or as scientific as studying principles of rocket propulsion is a legitimate opportunity.

Through the various organizations, we are able to learn much about people and leadership. In honoraries, special students associate with one another. Fraternities and sororities build comradeship, and professional associations help to form professional attitudes. Religious groups strive to make students more aware of their ultimate goal. Other organizations bring together those who are interested in information, entertainment or student government.

Because of the leadership and responsibility, the formation and execution of policy which characterizes the various campus organizations, we have the opportunity to grow and to give, to be better and happier in our pursuit of truth.

SPORTS

The thrilling swish of a basketball dropping through a net, the crushing contact of a line plunge, the hard pinning against a mat are sensations enjoyed by only a few in a large university.

Except for intramural sports, most of us enjoy sports vicariously. As spectators, we go to cheer our teams as they play the skilled athletes of other universities of the country. Whether the Marquette Warriors win or lose, excitement runs high.

Although they are not the most important, these moments may be among the most memorable. For the players, they are moments of achievement; for the spectators, moments of vicarious achievement, helping to teach us how to win, to lose and to live.

As such times are rightfully a part of a man's life, so they belong to us in the Catholic university. They are a part of our life of acquiring ideas and preparing ourselves well for the future. They are time out to laugh, to cheer, to join our fellow students in expressions of loyalty to our school and enthusiasm for our teams.

ATHLETIC BOARD

The athletic board is the governing body of all university athletic activities, both intercollegiate and intramural. Its members include chairman John G. Holbrook, S.J.; Thomas F. Divine, S.J.; board secretary and dean of the College of Business Administration; John P. Bradish, instructor in the College of Engineering; Clarence J. Supernau, assistant dean of the College of Liberal Arts; George H. Zimny, psychology instructor; George B. Hunt, president of the Milwaukee Dustless Brush Co.; James J. Bonifas and Ted E. Wedemeyer, local attorneys; and David Foran, student representative.

This year the board's biggest problem was selecting a successor to John Druze, who resigned as head football coach November 26. Its choice was Lisle Blackbourn, who coached the Warriors from 1950 to 1953 and piloted the Green Bay Packers from 1954 to 1957. In 1958 Blackbourn doubled as head coach and athletic director at Carroll college.

Blackbourn was a popular choice because of his extensive Wisconsin background. In his tenure at Marquette he provided Warrior fans with some of the most interesting football they have ever seen. Blackbourn's 1953 squad lost only three games, all to Big Ten teams, by a total of nine points.

Athletic board members included Thomas Divine, S.J.; George H. Zimny, James J. Bonifas, John G. Holbrook, S.J.; John P. Bradish, Clarence J. Supernau, and George B. Hunt. Absent — Ted Wedemeyer and David Foran.

The 1958 football season saw Marquette's Warriors meet continued frustration in their quest for college football's Holy Grail — the "Big Game."

The Warriors recorded their first victory since November of 1955 in the opening game with South Dakota State and later upended heavily favored College of the Pacific in a stunning comeback win, but by and large the Warriors continued mired deep in the gridiron muds. Inexperience, lack of depth, and an unholy chain of injuries resulted in a dismal 2-7-1 record, which in turn probably prompted the resignation of coach John Druze on November 26.

Druze, who succeeded Frosty Ferzacca after the 1955 campaign, was originally looked upon as the man who might finally establish a big time dynasty on the Hilltop. However, the ex-Fordham star's three year record of 2-26-1 was the worst in the school's 68 year gridiron history. Druze commented, "In behalf of my family and for what is considered the best interests of Marquette, I hereby submit my resignation to be effective at the termination of my contract. If Marquette can find a better man to do a better job, I'm 100 per cent for it."

In all fairness to Druze, it must be remembered that a good share of his misfortunes was due to injuries to key players and schedules that were at times out of Marquette's class. Marquette has always had a depth problem, and when the inevitable injuries came about, Druze often had to pit half-crippled ballplayers or green subs against many of the country's top teams.

Quarterback Pete Hall sparked the Warriors' first win in 34 long months on September 24 by rushing for 124 yards and passing for 74 more when the Warriors downed South Dakota State, 18-7.

Marquette displayed the usual opening game raggedness in the first half which ended scoreless. The Warriors thoroughly outplayed State, but fumbles and penalties halted drives time and again.

Then, midway through third quarter, with a fourth down and nine situation on South Dakota's 39, Hall dropped back to punt. He took the snap and shot around left end. He picked up some backers, reversed his field and was finally downed on the two-yard line. He sneaked over on the next play, and it was 6-0, Marquette.

The Warriors tallied twice more when Hall cracked over on runs of one and four yards to put Druze's first win as Warrior coach on ice.

After the game the crowd of 11,500 delirious fans staged a standing ovation as the overjoyed Druze, waving the game ball and shouting, was carried off the field by his players. Students swarmed onto the field, tore down the goalposts, and began a hornblaring parade downtown for a celebration which lasted far into the night.

Wisconsin's powerful Badgers, who enjoyed their best season since the Rose Bowl year of 1952, jolted the Warriors out of their victory daze and sent them tumbling back to earth with a loud thud two weeks later when they rolled over Marquette, 50-0.

ing linemen ran the undermanned Warriors ragged, and Marquette could not penetrate the 16-yard line all afternoon.

Ed Hart and Jon Hobbs scored twice for Wisconsin while Dale Hackbart, Tom Wiesner, and Billy Hobbs countered once apiece.

The well-battered Warriors lost their next start when they traveled to University Park, Pa., for a clash with Penn State. But the Wisconsin debacle apparently had taken too much out of the linemen, and the Nittany Lions had little trouble moving the ball. Penn State rushed for 284 yards to Marquette's meager 23, and that told the story of a 40-8 drubbing.

Hall, the star of the earlier win over South Dakota State, had a miserable day since his line afforded him little protection. Hall completed only three of 11 passes and had four intercepted, all of which the Lions turned into touchdowns.

The Warriors returned home the following week to meet Boston College's highly rated Eagles at Milwaukee County Stadium. Here Marquette displayed a complete reversal of form and outplayed Boston throughout the game. Only six fumbles and a general reluctance to call any wide plays enabled the Eagles to squeak through, 21-13. The Warriors outrushed the Eagles, 177 yards to 99, but two Warrior drives were stalled inside the three-yard line. The alert Bostonians also converted two fumbles into scores.

Then came the season's highlight. The Warriors upset three-touchdown favorite College of the Pacific, 27-18, for their first homecoming win since 1951. Bengal back Dick Bass entered the game as the nation's leading ground gainer with 619 yards, but the Warriors held him to a mere 28 in 10 tries.

The first time the Warriors got the ball they raced 70 yards. Hall pitched 28 yards to Woods, and Mestnik chewed off gains of nine and 15 yards. Mestnik scored from one-half yard out, and Marquette led, 6-0.

Jack Larscheid, the Bengal's 154-pound half-back and a Milwaukee native, tied it later in the period with a five-yard run. On the next kickoff Woods rambled 65 yards before little Larscheid spilled him from behind, but the Warriors were unable to capitalize and score.

Bass gambled on a fourth down punting situation in the second quarter and lateralled to Henry Wallace, who was smeared for no gain on the COP 31. The Warriors took over, and Hall passed 13 yards to Hubbard for the score. Hall ran over for the conversion, and Marquette led at the half, 14-6.

Bass came to life long enough to score from the eight-yard line early in the fourth period. The touchdown narrowed Marquette's margin to 14-12, and with the Bengals on the prowl it looked as if the Warriors were going to fold up and blow another one.

The Warriors failed to move on their next series, and Hall punted. COP had possession on their own 39, but quarterback Gary Hubb's pass was swiped by Hall who returned to the Pacific 43. Here the determined Warriors advanced relentlessly, and Mestnik capped the drive when he burst off tackle from the one-half yard line for the score. The conversion attempt failed, but the Warriors had a 20-12 lead with 6:45 remaining.

The Tigers sent in their ace aerialist, Herm Urenda, who had a record of 14 completions in 17 attempts for four games. But Urenda's second pass was picked off by Ernie Safran who rambled 16 yards to give the Warriors possession on COP's 27. Six plays later Ernie Garcia slithered over from the two, and Safran's kick put the Warriors out of reach.

Urenda added a consolation touchdown for the demoralized Bengals when he flipped an eight yard score pass to Bob Coronado. The conversion attempt failed, and the Warriors were out of reach.

The Warriors suffered a letdown the following week when they took on Detroit in the Motor City. The Titans rushed to a 14-0 halftime lead when Marquette's line was continually outcharged. But the Warriors were a fired up lot as they emerged from the dressing room after intermission and proceeded to shove the stunned Detroiters all over Titan stadium.

The Warriors were still down by the half-time margin with ten minutes to play when they began a drive on their own 40. Hall climaxed it when he slanted off tackle from five yards out for the score. The two-point conversion was good, and the Titan margin was chopped to 14-8 with 8:10 left.

over on the 45. Woods exploded over right guard for the touchdown with 1:40 left and the Detroit fans squirmed anxiously as Ernie Safran poised for the extra point kick. But Ernie's boot sailed just inches to the right and the embattled Titans were off the hook with a 14-14 tie.

The Warriors, burdened by injuries all year long, had their worst run of casualties in the Detroit skirmish. It couldn't have come at a worse time, for the following week Druze's badly depleted squad traveled to Fort Worth, Tex. for a game with Texas Christian's nationally ranked Horned Frogs. Ron Dulak, Woods, and Mestnik did not even make the trip, and when Hall, Reginnelli, and John Blyth had to be off the field, Abe Martin's Cotton Bowl-bound Frogs moved the ball almost at will. The final was a 36-8 pasting.

The lone Marquette touchdown was scored late in the third quarter when halfback Chuck Hujik got behind two Frog defenders and snared John Cornell's 36-yard toss. Hujik raced the final 20 yards, and Cornell smashed over for the two-point conversion.

The Warriors ran into the nation's number 11 passer in Jack Lee and one of the Midwest's better halfbacks in Joe Morrison when they met Cincinnati in the home finale. Marquette outgained the Bearcats, 173 yards to 168, but lacked the spark to put together a sustained drive. The Cats won, 15-0, in a fierce battle marked by 155 yards in penalties.

The Warriors had their best chance of the afternoon when they marched 86 yards the first time they had the ball. The drive was stalled, however, on the eight when Ed Denk intercepted Cornell's aerial.

The Warriors suffered another frustrating defeat the following week when they lost to Holy Cross, 14-0, at Worcester, Mass. The Warriors outplayed the highly-regarded Crusaders in every department but the scoring column. Tom Greene, one of the nation's top passing quarterbacks, completed only five in 13 attempts. Conversely, Hall and Cornell hit on 14 of 28 for 170 yards.

John Allen returned the opening kickoff 82 yards to Marquette's 13. The Warriors stiffened, but minutes later the Crusaders put together an 82-yard march climaxed by Bob Delfino's one-yard plunge. Delfino also scored the second touchdown on a nine-yard dash.

Two fourth-quarter scoring bids by Marquette fell short inside the ten-yard line.

Druze saw his Marquette coaching career end on a sour note the next week when powerful Arizona State parlayed a four-touchdown barrage in the second quarter into a 42-18 win over the injury-laden Warriors at Tempe, Ariz.

The Sun Devils started slowly, but once they got going they moved the ball easily. State rolled up 461 net yards, and only one of their touchdowns was scored from less than 13 yards out.

Fullback Frank Mestnik, the Warriors' leading ground gainer for the second year in a row, also was voted the team's most valuable player. The junior from Warrensville, Ohio, piled up 480 yards in 130 carries for a 3.7 average. Pete Hall was the scoring leader with 40 points.

Joe Anderer, who won a starting tackle berth in the Boston College game and played brilliantly the rest of the season, was elected captain of the 1959 Warriors. Anderer hails from New York City.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

A big, mobile line, along with backfield speed and balance, was the trademark of this year's freshman football team. Coach George Kelly was highly optimistic about Marquette's gridiron future after tutoring his squad and observing its progress last fall.

A powerful forward wall may well be the mark of next year's Warriors when the yearling line, which averaged 225 pounds, moves up to the varsity.

Led by ends George Andrie, Chuck Dreas and Gerry Barto; tackles Ken Schaffer and Jeff Messerkneck; guards Bob Wilkins and Ted Clements; and centers Thad Mirski and Bill Buksas, the line was in Coach Kelly's words, "exceptionally fast and smart, with that big factor, size, thrown in."

Three slingshot-armed quarterbacks and depth at the halfback and fullback positions headline the backfield. The quarterbacks, Bill Johnson, Lew Mavity and Joe Schulte, along with halfbacks Pat Geraghty, Don Krebs, Mike Copps and Kevin Weinberg, made up a backfield corps that possessed both speed and depth. Fullback Galen Price provided the power needed for balance.

Kelly praised the team for its "spirit and willingness to learn."

Coach Mel Shimek

Coach Mel Shimek's cross country squad compiled a dismal 1-3 record in 1958, and finished fourth in the Centrals in Chicago. Yet, any victory over the University of Wisconsin is always a sweet one, and Shimek can look back with satisfaction on a 21-34 triumph over the Badgers.

The losses were to Notre Dame, 20-40, and Minnesota, 26-29. The Warriors also dropped a triangular meet to Western Michigan and Indiana, with Western Michigan scoring 26 points, Indiana 42, and Marquette 64. In the Centrals the Warrior Harriers placed fourth behind Western Michigan, Notre Dame and Drake.

Plagued by a lack of depth, Coach Shimek got a lot of mileage out of his first three men, John Kotsubka, Jim Allen and Isauero Rivas. This trio, paced by Kotsubka, continually turned in capable performances. Another three runners, necessary for the success of a cross country team, could not be found.

Scoring in cross country is quite different from most sports, with the team compiling the lowest total winning the match. Points are awarded according to the finishing positions of the contestants, first man getting one point, the second man two points and so on up the line. The need for team depth can be seen by understanding the scoring system.

BASKETBALL

Followers of Marquette athletics will recall 1959 as the year when the Warrior cage team returned to college basketball's Promised Land.

Not since the "Cinderella" team of 1954-'55 finished its season as the eighth ranked power in the country has a Marquette club approached the heights reached by the one of 1958-'59.

Ed Hickey, who succeeded Jack Nagle as basketball coach last spring after an illustrious career at St. Louis university, estimated that it would take two years to restore the Warriors to their former position of renown. But the team, using Hickey's crowd pleasing fast break offense as a springboard, soared to a 22-4 record and a trip to the NCAA tournament.

That mark, which included a 15 game winning streak, kept Tribal backers storming the Arena to the tune of a new attendance record. Nearly 100,000 fans watched the Warriors go unbeaten in 14 home games.

Coach E. S. "Ed" Hickey

Five Demons and two Warriors are shown in action as Mike Moran goes up for a hook against Mike Salzinski (41) and Jim Flemming (55).

The team was thin in reserve power, but featured a well balanced attack in which four of the five regulars finished with a double figure scoring average.

Mike Moran, six-foot eight-inch senior center, led the way with 526 points, an 18.1 average and a .472 shooting percentage. The lefthanded hook shot artist concluded his career as the possessor of every significant scoring record in Marquette annals. His 526 points set a single season high, and his 1,355 points represent a career record. Russ Wittberger set the old mark of 1,353 in four seasons; Moran needed only three to break it. Moran also set the single game high in 1957-'58 with a 44 point explosion against Creighton.

Forwards Walt Mangham and Don Kojis finished with 387 and 403 points, respectively. Mangham, a junior, had a .250 shooting percentage in 1957-'58, but improved to .382 this year. The national high school high jump champion in 1956, Mangham wrestled down 372 rebounds. His cat-like jumping feats were a continuous source of amazement to spectators.

Kojis, generally acclaimed as one of the finest high school players ever developed in Milwaukee, climaxed a brilliant sophomore year by being selected to the NCAA all-tournament team. A fiery competitor, Kojis led the Warriors with 376 rebounds and placed second to Moran in scoring.

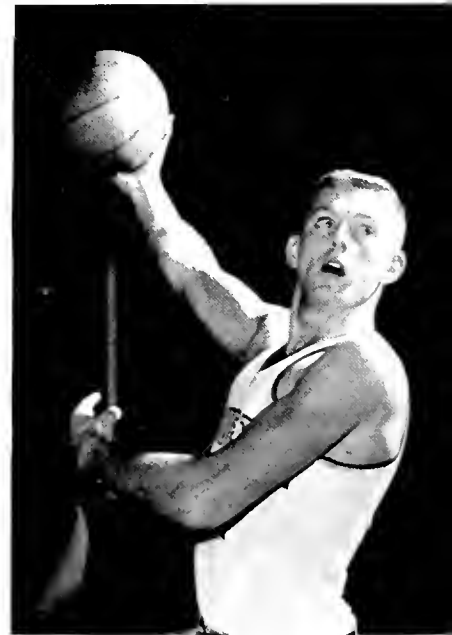

Senior guard Jim McCoy was the team's chief outside threat. An excellent driver and steady ball handler, McCoy was often at his best when the chips were down. He tallied 337 points and hung up a .403 shooting percentage.

Captain Gene Suppelsa

Jim Kollar

Don Kojis

Junior guard Jim Kollar was the playmaker. He did not shoot much but had a .407 percentage and scored 251 points. His .773 free throw percentage led the team. The players recognized Kollar's leadership value by electing him captain for 1959-60.

The season began Dec. 2 when the Warriors traveled to Madison to renew their long and bitter rivalry with Wisconsin. Despite Hickey's attempts to keep fan expectations from rising too high, interest soared when Marquette did to Wisconsin's basketball team what Wisconsin usually does to Marquette's football team.

The Warriors destroyed the Badgers' zone defense by ringing up 19 straight points in the second half and then coasting to a 76-47 win. The taller but immobile Badgers were outrebounded, 48-33, and outshot, 45 percent to 25. Mangham spearheaded the attack with 19 points.

Braving near zero weather, 9,280 fans watched Hickey's charges open their home slate against Illinois. McCoy racked up 26 points as the Warriors seared the nets with 43 points in the first half and then breezed to a surprisingly easy 69-33 triumph. The Illini, playing without star forward Govoner Vaughn, shot an inept .247.

The Tribe ran into a hot Cornhusker team at Nebraska Dec. 8 and succumbed, 62-60. A determined second half bid by the Warriors fell short as the Huskers won the game from the free throw line. Nebraska netted 18 of 26 charity tosses while Marquette hit only 10 of 18. Kojis led the Warriors with 23 points.

The 15 game winning streak began inauspiciously the next night when the Warriors squeaked by Creighton, 53-49. The Bluejays tried to stymie Hickey's rapidly developing fast break with ball control tactics, but the Warriors broke to an early lead and maintained a slim margin throughout. Moran led the way with 17 points.

Marquette had thirsted a whole long year for a chance to avenge last year's 49-47 upset loss to St. Norbert, and despite some defensive lapses, poor passing and 24 personal fouls, the Warriors downed the Green Knights, 82-74, at the Arena Dec. 13. A .472 shooting percentage by Marquette proved too much for the smaller De Pere men. Mangham paced the attack with 15 points.

Drake was disposed of next when the Warriors' alert defense and effective long range shooting sent the Bulldogs reeling to a 79-63 defeat. Moran rolled in eight of Marquette's first 11 points to pace the Warriors to a 41-25 halftime advantage. From then on it was no contest and Hickey let the subs ride out the rest of the game. Moran and Kojis tallied 21 and 20, respectively, while Jim Guydon led Drake with 21.

A highly touted New York university team invaded the Arena Dec. 18 to give the Warriors what was supposed to have been their first real test of the winter. But Marquette shot an incredible 59 percent in the first half and rolled to a 70-59 victory. Moran's 23 points again led the way, but the Violets' Tom Sanders took game honors with 26.

The Warriors hosted Creighton in a rematch Dec. 20 and blasted the Bluejays, 70-49. Hickey's crew suffered a letdown from their stellar effort against NYU, as sluggish ball handling and 21 fouls shadowed their play. But excellent scoring balance paid off in an easy win. Kojis topped Warrior scoring with 13 points.

Proud, eighth-ranked Xavier, the 1958 NIT champion and possessor of a 10 game winning streak, invaded the Arena Dec. 22. The Musketeers met a fired up Warrior squad that, hungry for national recognition, played as nearly perfect basketball as a college team can play. All-American Hank Stein with 23 points and Joe Viviano with 18 did their best to keep Xavier in the game, but Marquette's determination and potent balance were not to be denied. Mangham, Kollar and McCoy softened the Muskies with outside gunning, and Moran kayoed them inside with a 26 point barrage. The final score was 86-71 and the Warrior players carried Hickey aloft to the dressing room. The winning streak now stood at six and the experts began to sit up and to take notice.

The expected letdown followed Dec. 22 when the Warriors were hard pressed before finally getting untracked in the second half and pummeling University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 76-60. Moran duplicated his 26 point performance of the Xavier game.

Moran stuffed in 23 on Jan. 3 when Marquette whipped Detroit, 75-66, in the Motor city.

The Warriors returned to the friendly Arena boards Jan. 9 to meet the plucky but smaller Air Force Academy. Hickey remarked that the Falcons threw up one of the toughest defenses Marquette faced all season, but the Warriors' lopsided 40-15 rebounding advantage carried them to a 67-46 win. Moran broke through the tight zone often enough to bucket 18 points.

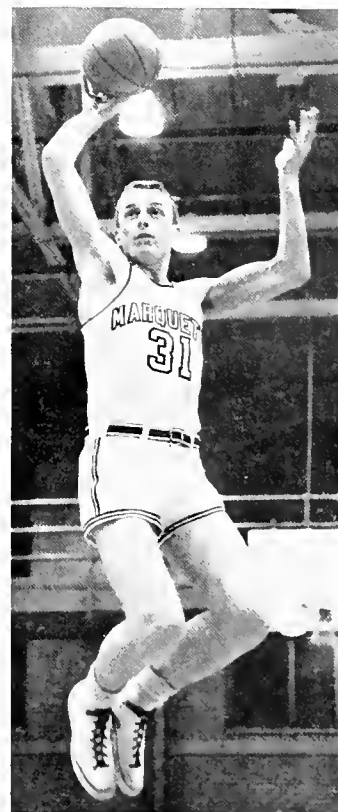

The Tribe stretched its streak to 11 and jumped to 13th place in the national ratings when it bombed Valparaiso, 96-74, Jan. 13. The game was not as one-sided as the score indicates. Marquette had only a 67-62 lead with seven minutes left, but from then on outscored Valparaiso, 29-

12. Amazing scoring balance was evident in this contest: Moran led with 24 points, Mangham followed with 20, Kojis added 19, Kollar 15 and McCoy 12.

The Warriors took a two week layoff for semester examinations and resumed play Jan. 31 against Louisville. The Cardinals had started the season slowly but by this time were coming along rapidly. They gave the Warriors a scare before bowing, 66-62. Three thousands fans were turned away from the Arena doors.

Marquette followed the Louisville win with its 13th straight triumph, an easy 78-63 romp over Detroit.

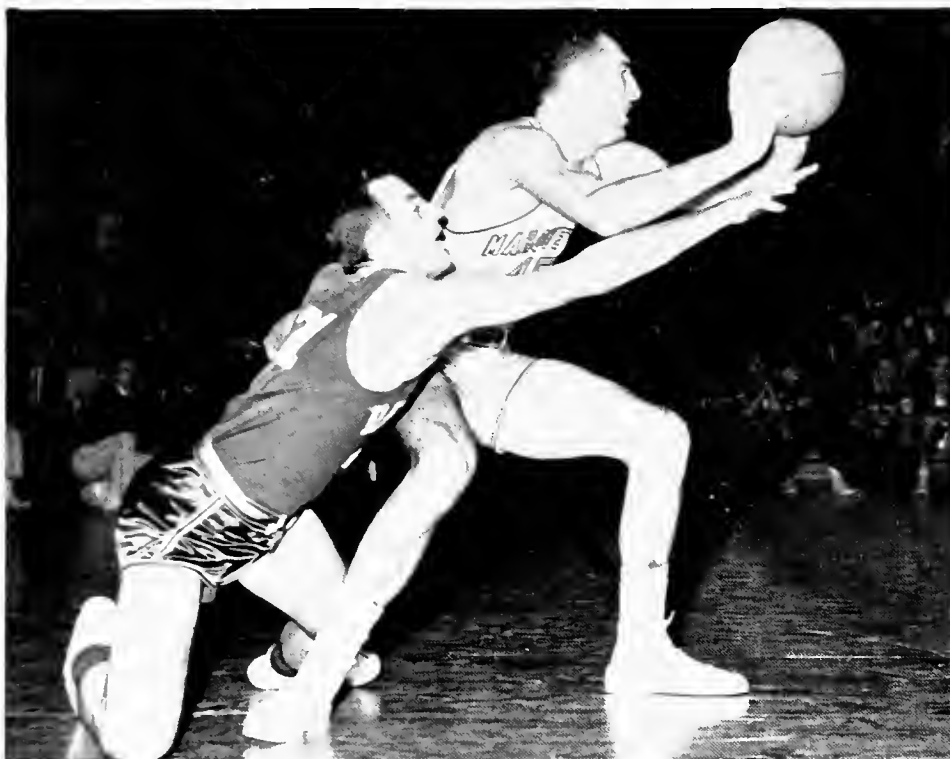

Playing their third game in five days, the Warriors thumped Bowling Green, 73-62. Marquette smothered Bowling Green's outside threats, Jim Darrow and Jim McDonald, so the Falcons resorted to "hatchet men" tactics and the game deteriorated into an elbow-flinging, hip-bumping melee. Several Warriors, notably Kojis and Kollar, hit the floor hard and often, but fortunately nobody was seriously injured. Moran paced Marquette with 21 points.

Walt Mangham seems to be singing "here we go again" as he goes high in the air to grab a rebound from Creighton's Bob Van Zeeland (25). McCoy (15) and Kojis (44) wait for the "break."

Detroit's John Belohlovek appears to be pleading with Mike Moran for the ball. Moran merely looks perturbed as he looks for assistance.

The Warriors traveled to Chicago Stadium Feb. 7 and throttled Loyola, 90-60, for their 15th consecutive win. Once again Marquette met a team that attempted to spring an upset by controlling the ball and forcing the Warriors to come out after it, but the Tribe's 53 point second half eruption sewed up the victory. Marquette's 56.9 shooting percentage set a new school record, and the team advanced to 11th in the polls, its high mark of the year.

The flourishing winning streak died abruptly Feb. 9 when Coach Ray Meyer's aroused Blue Demons of De Paul toppled Marquette, 89-80, at Chicago. Howie Carl, a five foot, ten inch sophomore sharp-shooter arched in 31 points for the Demons. The badly-rattled Warriors collapsed in both scoring and rebounding midway in the second half, and when they finally snapped out of it it was too late. Moran gave it a good try with 27 points.

The De Paul contest was the only one of the year in which any of the Warrior regulars suffered significant injuries. Moran received a deep cut on his right index finger, Mangham sprained his right big toe and McCoy sustained a pulled groin muscle. All were noticeably handicapped in the next few games.

Marquette lost its second straight game Feb. 14 at the Kentucky state fairgrounds when the Warriors' poor shooting and Louisville's determined defense resulted in a 68-55 Cardinal triumph. The Tribe shot a bleak 26.9 percent, far below their normal 40 percent or better. The onrushing Cardinals shot 38.8 percent to notch their 13th win against nine losses. The big difference was Fred Sawyer, the Cardinal's six foot, eleven inch sophomore center. Sawyer hogtied the Warriors explosive offense, held Moran to only seven points, and blocked shots time and again. Sawyer also chipped in 15 points. Mangham led the Warriors with 19.

Despite two straight losses, the Warriors fell no lower than 13th in the polls and on Feb. 17 the Athletic board announced it had accepted a bid to play in the NCAA.

The Warriors returned to the victory column by knocking off Xavier at Cincinnati Feb. 21, and then engaged Tom Hawkins and co. of Notre Dame at the Arena Feb. 24.

A single game record crowd of 11,056 hollered itself hoarse when Marquette completely outclassed the Fighting Irish with a 60 percent field goal onslaught, 95-76. Moran played possibly the greatest game of his career, scoring 39 points and closing in on his own record of 44 before fouling out with four minutes left. The laconic Irishman tossed in 16 of 22 shots from the floor and added seven of nine free throws.

It was a thrilling see-saw affair for 15 minutes. Notre Dame broke to a 7-0 lead, but a Kojis free throw knotted it at 15-all. All American Hawkins got hot and paced the Irish to a 28-23 lead, but Moran scored 10 points in one minute and 25 seconds to give the Tribe a 37-28 advantage.

With 14:30 left in the game the Warriors were struggling to protect a 52-48 lead. Then a three point play by McCoy and fast break layups by Kollar and Moran ignited a five minute burst in which the Warriors outscored Notre Dame, 23 points to two. Mike Graney led the Irish with 21 points and Hawkins added 17, the latter getting only one in the second half before fouling out.

Following the Notre Dame encounter, the Warriors embarked on a two game road trip and took on Western Michigan and Toledo.

Western Michigan's Broncos, victims of 19 defeats before the Marquette invasion, rose to their season's peak and gave the Warriors unexpected trouble before finally bowing, 81-71. Marquette had only a 37-35 halftime lead, but McCoy's outside sniping started Hickey's attack rolling after intermission. When the Broncos came back to narrow the gap to 70-66 with seven minutes left the Warriors went into a stall which loosened the zone defense. Clutch baskets by Kojis and Moran sewed up the win. McCoy was high with 19 points.

The Warriors were forced to come from behind three times in the second half against Toledo to win their 21st game against three defeats. The teams exchanged the lead eight times in the first half which ended in a 23-23 tie. With two minutes left in the game Moran sank a layup and added a free throw to give Marquette a 54-51 lead. McCoy's free throw iced the victory. Kojis topped the Tribe scoring with 15 points.

Marquette exploded with a .528 second half shooting percentage to avenge the earlier loss to De Paul when the Warriors bombed the Blue Demons, 82-69, at the Arena March 4.

Marquette sputtered through the first half with a .333 percentage and Kojis' two free throws gave Hickey's charges a 32-30 intermission lead. But in the second half the Warriors threw a cordon around the defensive boards which forced the Demons to fire from long range, and that plus the torrid shooting of Moran broke the game wide open. Moran, playing his last home game along with McCoy and Captain Gene Suppelsa, rolled in 10 of 19 floor shots and netted nine free throws for 29 points.

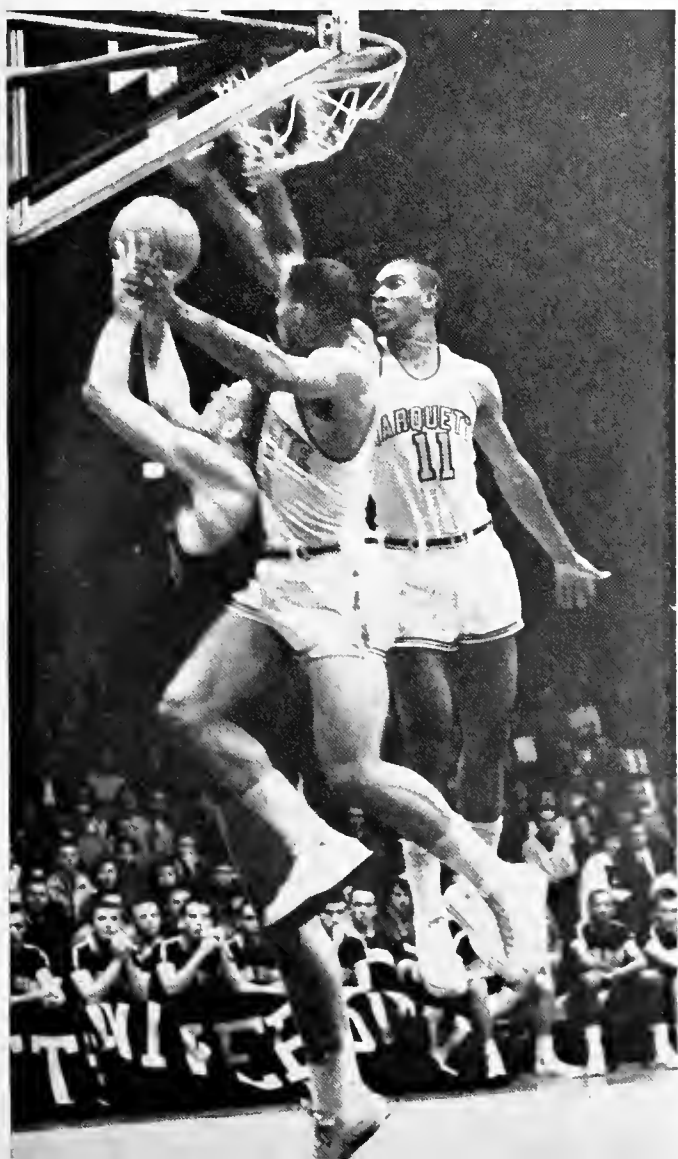

Set shots by Jim Flemming and Howie Carl triggered De Paul to an early second half lead, but the Warriors battled back to a 47-44 advantage with 13:50 remaining. Then Moran's hook shot precipitated a point avalanche in which Marquette outscored De Paul 18 to two in the next six and one half minutes. Carl's 10 points in the last five and one half minutes made the score more respectable. Carl finished with 24. Both teams sank 30 of 69 shots from the field, but the Warriors made up the difference from the free throw line.

A tradition of upsets was continued when the Warriors traveled to South Bend, Ind., to close out their regular campaign against Notre Dame on March 4. In 1955 the Irish invaded the Arena for the season finale and ended the Cinderella team's 22 game winning streak with an 85-64 win. This year the Irish, smarting under their earlier humiliation in Milwaukee, turned on the tourney-bound Warriors with a vengeance and emerged with a 51-35 triumph.

Coach Hickey, hoping to offset his team's disadvantage of playing in Notre Dame's closet-sized gymnasium before an almost violently hostile crowd, instructed his players to stall. The Irish surrounded the baskets with their beefy front line and the Warriors passed the ball around for eight minutes while looking for a clear shot. The strategy worked at the start when Marquette broke two leads of 8-2 and 10-4. But the Irish put the pressure on and drew numerous fouls, which enabled them to even the count at 16-all late in the half.

Tom Hawkins and John Tully opened the second half with short jump shots to give the Irish a 20-16 lead. From then on the Warriors, forced to play Notre Dame's type of game, sank only four of 33 shots to finish with an abysmal 22.7 percentage. Hawkins was high with 19 points, while McCoy had 10 for Marquette. Moran, on the verge of breaking almost every school scoring record, got only three points.

The Warriors, bent on regaining lost prestige, opened the NCAA tournament by blasting Bowling Green, 89-71, at Lexington, Ky.

A horde of Marquette students descended upon McGaw fieldhouse in Evanston, Ill., where the Warriors clashed with Michigan State in the tourney's second round March 13.

But the Big Ten champions killed Marquette's national championship aspirations by defeating the Warriors, 74-69. The Spartans raced to a 24-9 lead with 12 minutes gone while the Tribe could manage only two baskets. Inaccurate passing and poor rebounding aided the Michigan State cause.

Kollar canned a long set shot to touch off a courageous Warrior counter charge. Mangham executed a three point play to narrow the margin to 30-28 with 2:51 to go in the half, but the Spartans recovered to grab a 38-34 halftime lead.

Another Marquette scoring drought set in after intermission, but Mangham, Kojis and McCoy began to find the range and again the Warriors fought back. Mangham's jump shot knotted it at 49-all with 9:20 left.

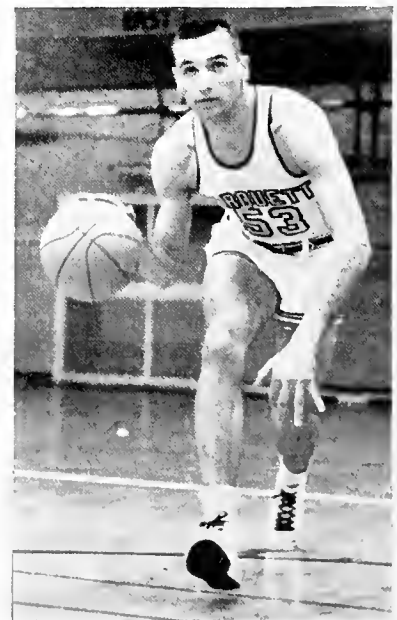

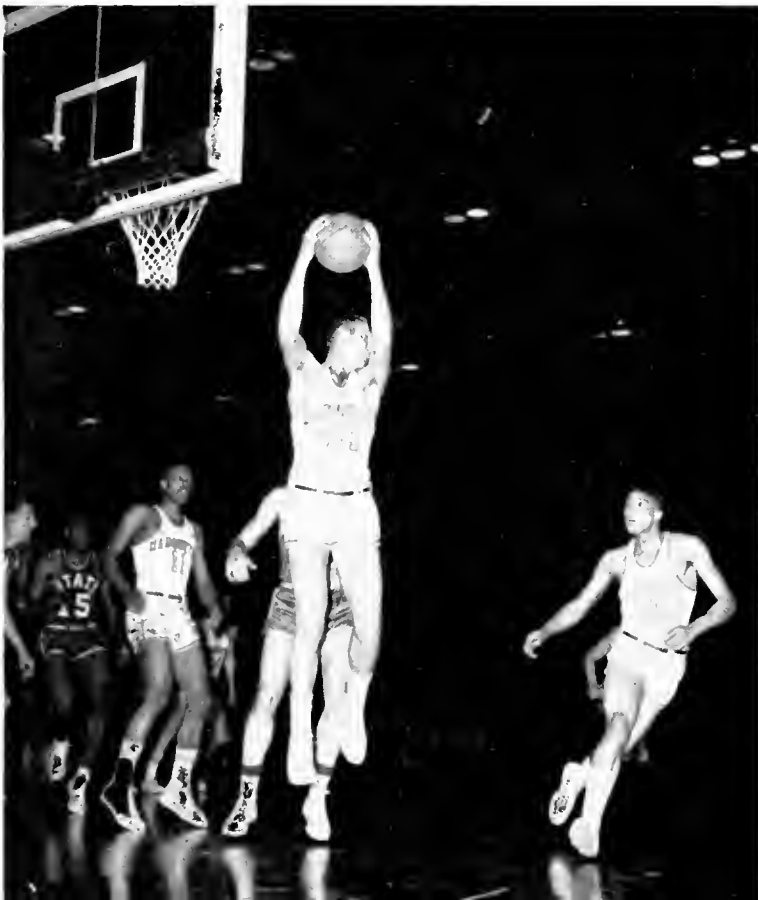

Then all-American John Green and Lance Olson netted nine points between them to make it 60-51 with 7:05 left. Kollar and Kojis sparked a last ditch rally which pulled the Warriors to a 65-64 deficit, but Bob Anderegg delivered the coup de grace with three quick buckets to ice the Spartans' victory cake. Anderegg led Michigan State with 23 points and Horace Walker chipped in with 20. Kojis, battling like a demon under the boards, picked off 21 rebounds and hit 17 points for the Warriors.

A great season ended on a dismal note March 14 when Kentucky's Wildcats, fighting mad over their loss to Louisville the previous night, seared the nets at a .518 percentage to bury the Warriors, 98-69.

Despite the season's disappointing ending, the Basketball Writers' Association of America acknowledged Hickey's work by voting him college coach of the year.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Coach Jim Smith

Playing the toughest alumni team that any freshman squad has had to tackle in years, the best this season's frosh squad could do was a 2-7 record.

Former Warrior stars Russ Wittberger, Joe Faupl, Sam Saucedo, Don Bugalski, John Glaser and Bob Walczak frequently appeared in the alumni lineup, and this rugged outfit gave Coach Jim Smith's team a true baptism of fire. The alumni swept all six games from the yearlings.

The annual freshman-varsity game Nov. 24 premiered the future Warriors, and Ed Hickey's crew unveiled its fast break system by trampling the newcomers, 95-45.

The squad's two wins came at the expense of the Interfraternity All-Stars, 95-46, and the Dental school All-Stars, 74-44.

Coach Smith commented that the team's biggest problem was rebounding.

"Our forwards weren't too big and you don't find many players that can rebound against a team with a three or four inch height advantage.

"On the credit side, the team did a tremendous job adapting to the fast break. But when they couldn't run they had to pick their shots and hope that the long ones would fall in. That was where their rebounding deficiencies hurt them."

INTRAMURALS AND GYMNASTICS

Marquette's male students have the chance to satisfy their desire for competitive exercise by participating in one of the most extensive collegiate intramural sports programs in the country.

More than 60 per cent of the male student body enters the program, directed by Donald A. Clark. In 1958-'59, 40 teams participated in touch football, 86 in basketball, 36 in bowling and volleyball, 32 in softball, 16 in golf and 8 in tennis.

Mr. Clark, in his 11th year as director, feels that despite limited facilities the program has served its purpose very well.

"We try to provide wholesome leisure activity for Marquette men," he said. "Intramurals have an important place in college life because they provide a healthy release for academic tensions. Some of our best participants are Medical and Dental students who feel that their sports activities enable them to study better."

There were three touch football leagues this fall, with Triangle winning the fraternity division, the Animals taking first place in the independent group, and Bravo 1 capturing the navy league title. Games were played at McCormick field.

Triangle continued its winning ways by emerging as champion of fraternity basketball, while the champions of the independent and dormitory leagues were the Cadillac Club and the Reckers, respectively.

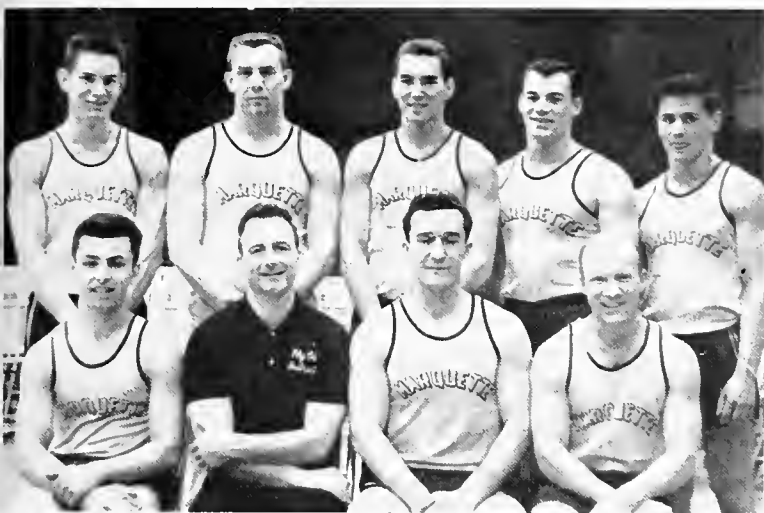

The Jesuits, Delta Sigma Delta, the Rinky Dinks and Schroeder hall won bowling titles in the faculty, fraternity, independent and dormitory leagues, respectively. Tom Moore of the independent Bar Flies had the highest average among intramural keglers—182. The annual Christmas bowling tournament, which this year attracted 320 participants, was won by Triangle with 16,218 pins. Frank Foti of Alpha Phi Omega rolled the high series of 666, while Dan Bertram of Delta Theta Phi had a single game of 213.

Delta Sigma Pi, Alpha Phi Omega and Sigma Phi Delta tied for first place in fraternity softball, while the Buzzards won the dormitory division and the Vets' Brigade captured the independent title.

The opening match of intramural boxing was staged March 13, with Pat Kelly and Sal DeFanni winning decisions. Jerry Sheehan was Marquette's new boxing coach this season, succeeding Jim Kommers.

Marquette fielded a gymnastics team for the first time in 1958-'59. Bob Lagerman, a 1952 graduate of La Crosse State Teachers, coached the squad and hopes to supervise the sport on an intercollegiate basis eventually.

Lack of facilities and practice time hurt the team's progress this year. Because the season runs from November to March, there was a conflict with other indoor sports. The gymnasts could practice only one night a week, but Lagerman was confident that his athletes would improve with the experience they would gain during the rest of the season.

Marquette competed with six other schools in the State Amateur Athletic union gymnastics meet at the Marquette gym Jan. 31.

The only experienced members of the team were Donovan Meyer and Dave Spehar. Meyer had worked out with the Milwaukee Turners, a physical fitness club, for 10 years. Spehar, a transfer student from Michigan State university, had previous experience on the Spartan squad.

Gymnastic events consist of the horizontal and parallel bars; the rings; tumbling; the long bars, on which body vaults are performed; the side horse, on which leg circles are executed; and free calisthenics. Performers are judged on form, continuity and difficulty. Each contestant is given the option of participating in an event besides the one in which he is entered. Participants are scored on a possible 100 points for each event and option.

Coach Don Clark's 1958 tennis team established a school record of 10 victories and one defeat. The team consisted of Charles Mulcahy, Fritz Lahmann, Jack Sullivan, Bill McCarty, Bob McLoone and Dick Vogels. Mulcahy represented Marquette in the NCAA championships held at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

The 1959 Marquette team opened its season March 14-15, competing in the third annual University of Chicago Invitational Indoor tournament. Iowa took the team title with the Warriors finishing third behind Toledo.

Captain Mulcahy, McCarty and McLoone were second place medalists behind Iowa in the number one, four and five singles flights, respectively. It marked the first time a Marquette squad won medals in the tournament.

The 1959 campaign featured matches with Notre Dame, Wisconsin, Beloit and Chicago.

GOLF

The 1958 Marquette golf team compiled a creditable 6-3 record. Coach Dr. Charles Nader was hopeful that his 1959 squad, bolstered by three returning lettermen, could improve upon that mark.

The emblem winners were headed by Bob Doyle, who averaged 78 per round in 1958. Other lettermen were Joe Fasulo and Bill Geimer. Lost from 1958 were John Kelly, Jim Goggin and Ed Plotzke.

The 1959 season featured matches with La-Crosse, the state champions the previous two years, plus Beloit, Lawrence, Carroll, St. Mary's of Winona, St. Norbert, Ripon and University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

The Warrior golfers play their home matches at Milwaukee Tuckaway Country Club.

TRACK

Coach Mel "Bus" Shimek

Marquette's 1959 indoor track season, although not regarded as successful, provided several outstanding individual performances which indicated that the Warriors could be tough in the future.

Coach Mel Shimek was hampered from the start by a lack of depth. His 18 man squad had difficulty competing with teams that entered as many as 25 men in some meets.

Shimek opened the season with only seven lettermen: Captain Karl Sturtzen, hurdler and quarter miler; Roger Abbott, dash man and quarter miler; Jack Gardner, high jumper and quarter miler; John Kotsubka, distance runner; Tony Tarantino, half miler; Jim Turzinski, quarter miler; and Joe Sansone, high jumper and broad jumper. Sansone suffered a collapsed lung prior to the first meet and missed the entire indoor season.

A fine array of sophomores bolstered this year's squad. According to Shimek, distance men Jim Allen and Isauro Rivas, along with pole vaulter Bob Verbick and half miler Gary Mercado were standouts. Broad jumper Botund Viragh and middle distance men Dan Krause and Dave Mellady also looked good. Football star Si Woods turned in several fine performances in the shotput.

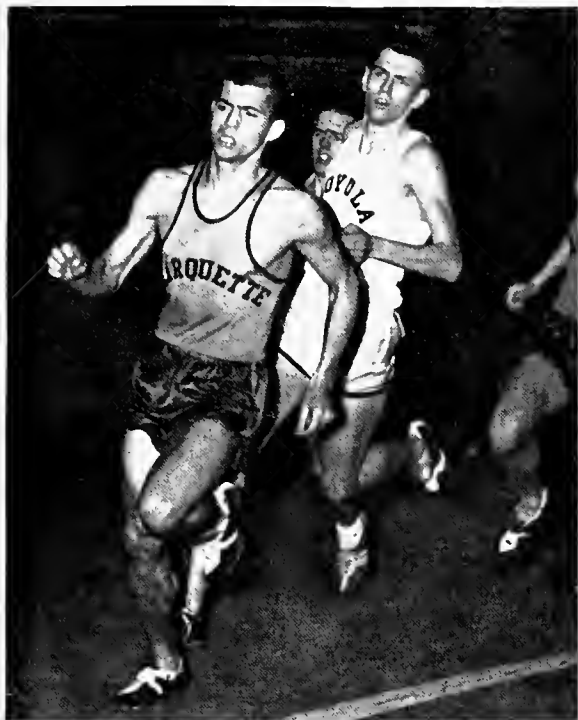

The squad got its first taste of competition when it traveled to East Lansing, Mich., for the Michigan State relays. This was a practice meet, and no team scores were kept.

Marquette opened its actual season on a losing note when it dropped an 84-20 dual match to Notre Dame. Verbick won the lone first place for the Warriors when he vaulted 13 feet 4 inches. Sturtzen and Woods took seconds in the high and low hurdles and shotput, respectively. Mercado turned in a creditable 1:57 half mile but could finish no better than fourth.

A trip to Kalamazoo, Mich., saw the thin-clads beaten by Western Michigan and Michigan in a triangular meet. Western Michigan racked up 92 points to 44 for the Wolves and 35 for the Warriors. Verbick bettered his previous jump by 11 inches when he soared 14 feet 3 inches. Seconds were brought home by Abbott in the 300 yard dash, Tarantino in the 1,000 yard run and Sturtzen in the 65 yard low hurdles.

The Warriors recorded their first win when they tripped Northwestern, 63-60, at Evanston, Ill. Allen shattered the meet mile record when he was clocked in 4:25.1. The mile relay team of Abbott, Mellady, Gardner and Sturtzen garnered a win with a reading of 3:25.6. Mercado and Stan Haransky added to Marquette's total by finishing one-two in the half mile.

At the Central Collegiate conference meet at Chicago, Verbick continued Marquette's domination in the pole vault when he won his event with a leap of 13 feet 8 inches. Former Warrior ace Ed Hoyle captured the prize in 1956 and 1958 and Mike McGrath won for Marquette in 1957.

The Centrals also found Tarantino finishing second in the 1,000 yard run, and Gardner, Woods and Mercado taking thirds in the high jump, shotput and 880 yard run. The remaining points were picked up by Allen, Sturtzen and Abbott.

Mercado provided one of the big thrills of the year when he placed second behind Ron Etherton of Purdue in the 600 yard run at the Milwaukee Journal games. Mercado's time was a fine 1:14.1. The mile relay team finished third in the Milwaukee Athletic club event with a time of 3:26.

Roger Abbott duels a Western Michigan runner in the mile relay.

The indoor season closed when the mile relay team finished second to Northwestern in the Chicago relays.

Coach Shimek was counting on continued improvement by some of his standouts to enable the squad to make a better showing in the outdoor campaign. He was hurt, however, by the loss of John Someson, who was declared ineligible for the second semester. Someson was expected to be a fine performer on the mile relay team.

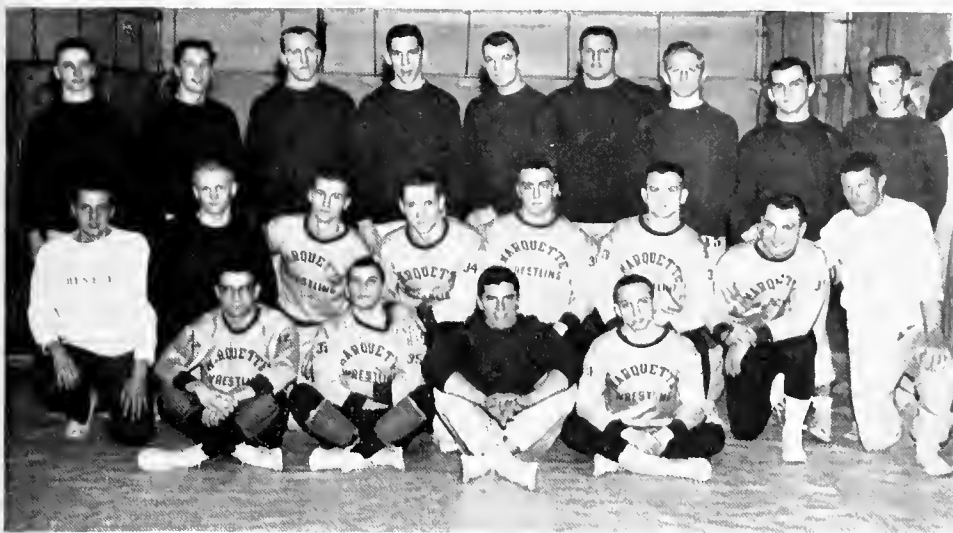

The losses of shotputter Gerry Schindler through ineligibility and Woods to spring football practice left very slim pickings for the field events.

The outdoor season saw Marquette playing host to the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Northwestern, the University of Chicago, the Chicago Track club and Bradley. The Centrals were also staged here June 6. The Warriors also traveled to Des Moines, Iowa, for the Drake relays, and to Kalamazoo, Mich., for a triangular with Michigan and Western Michigan. Michigan won the Big Ten championship in 1958 and Western Michigan took the Central Collegiate title.

Coach Barney Karpfinger ran into an unusual siege of bad luck this season and his wrestling squad ended a disappointing year with a 1-9 record.

At the start of the year Karpfinger noted that lack of depth would hurt the squad, and because top notch wrestlers were lost during the course of the season, this problem worsened.

Only four lettermen were on hand as the campaign opened with the annual varsity-alumni match. The varsity won, 22-11. Captain Lee Schaefer provided the surprise of the day by pinning Bruce Bemis in a middleweight clash. Bemis lost only one match during his Marquette career.

The Warriors opened their regular season with their lone win of the year when they beat Illinois Tech, 27-12, at the Marquette gym. The pattern for the rest of the year was set in the next match when they lost to the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 20-18. The matmen then traveled to Madison for the state intercollegiate competition. They could finish no higher than fifth in the meet, which was won by Wisconsin. Dan Finlay provided the only bright spot for Marquette finishing second in the 123 pound class.

Finlay continued his winning ways by taking first place in his event in an 18-12 loss to the University of Illinois-Chicago. The Warriors followed up this loss with another defeat, this time at the hands of Stevens Point, 20-13. This was the last match for Schaefer, who graduated in February. He finished the season with a 4-1 record in the 147 pound division.

The team was left without a capable heavy-weight during the second semester campaign, as Frank Rutkowski was forced to drop from the squad. Rutkowski had won four of five matches.

The Warriors ran into their toughest opposition of the year, according to Karpfinger, when they were swamped by St. Cloud, 28-5. Next the wrestlers came out on the short end of an 18-8 count at Notre Dame. They ended the regular season by dropping a rematch to UWM, 23-11. Finlay, Paul Wills and Joe Martines came through with firsts for the Warriors.

Individually, Wills led the squad with a 9-1 record. Finlay, Schaefer, Rutkowski and Sam Carallo were the other wheelhorses of Marquette's 1958-'59 wrestling team.

WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION

Male students don't have a monopoly on intramural sports at Marquette. Any athletically inclined coed on campus can get healthy exercise and enjoy companionship in the Women's Recreational Association.

The WRA not only supervises competition between its members, but also sponsors annual tournaments for all Marquette women students.

Under the leadership of moderator Janan Reiff, the Association's most popular sports were volleyball, badminton, bowling and basketball.

The highlight of the season was the basketball tournament in which nearly 20 teams competed, representing sororities, residence halls and independent coed organizations.

The girls also participated on an intercollegiate basis as members of the Athletic Federation of American College Women.

A spring banquet culminated the year with awards made to members who demonstrated outstanding athletic ability in addition to being active participants in the Association's functions.

air-cooled engines...

...is our ONE

and ONLY business

OUR complete engineering, production, distribution and service facilities are devoted to the single-minded task of supplying engines to match the critical performance demands of all types of modern mechanized equipment within a 3 to 56 hp. range.

Wisconsin specialization extends to full-scale concentration on 4-CYCLE HEAVY-DUTY AIR-COOLED ENGINES . . . backed by extensive and diversified experience in the production of engines dating back to 1909.

When you specify "WISCONSIN" you definitely get a better engine . . . an engine with a basic load-holding High Torque factor; an engine in which almost fifty years of exclusive engine-building experience has paid off in terms of heavy-duty serviceability under all types of operating conditions, in every equipment category; a universally known engine that "has everything" that know-how and a quality-conscious production policy can provide . . . backed by a world-wide sales and service organization in 82 countries.

These are among the reasons why more than 600 manufacturers of mechanized equipment specify "Wisconsin Engines" for their machines.

It's Not THAT Bad!

To paraphrase Candide, this is not the best of all possible worlds. No one can successfully rebut that point. However, it's not as bad as they say it is, either!

The gloomcasters are victims of mental myopia; squinting into the future, their vision cannot pierce the murk of the shadowed present. They sadly lack the sight of youth.

Don't let them cloud your vision with the smoked glasses of their pessimism; even the brilliance of the sun is obscured when viewed through such a medium!

Look upon the world with your own unshrouded eyes, for with them you can see its good as well as its bad, its future as well as its present.

You will find that it's far from perfect.

But it's not that bad!

Marquette's College of Engineering, passing its half-century mark, keeps ever abreast of its field's advances. Its high standing is ensured in large part by the close relationship maintained by the College with industry through its co-operative training program. This integration of theoretical knowledge and industrial experience produces confident young professionals, qualified and eager to survey the ever-widening horizons of a truly spectacular era.

A & P

WELCOMES YOU TO STOP IN ITS MANY SUPER MARKETS

THROUGHOUT THE CITY

*You Just Can't Beat
That A & P*

Animal hide has served mankind since earliest civilization. Its strength and beauty are inherent qualities.

But the tanner's skill is responsible for its conversion to leather as we know it now, with its many rich colors and surface textures, its suppleness and built-in water resistance.

Pfister and Vogel is proud of its part in developing new tanning techniques. But it also recognizes a debt to the great centers of learning like Marquette.

Here old techniques in many fields are constantly re-assessed. Here chemical research paves the way for new techniques. And here, above all, the sense of challenge to do all things better is instilled in the hearts and minds of each new generation.

An engineering concept — that of providing a complete system of controls rather than just parts — has been the guiding principle behind the remarkable expansion of Controls Company of America.

This growth has resulted in one responsibility for installation and service of pre-engineered controls for the widest variety of products. Aircraft, missile guidance systems, electronics, air conditioning, automotive, refrigeration, heating and appliance industries are among many fields served by CC. And this service is achieved at significant advantage to our customers — multi-item availability makes possible production and engineering benefits not available anywhere else.

CC's research and engineering facilities have kept pace with the company's product expansion. When creative assistance is required, put these unequalled resources to work on your special problems.

KEMPSMITH

MILLING MACHINES

The famous Kempsmith line of Milling Machines dates back to 1888 when America's first real production surge was already in evidence. Today with more than a half century of experience as a background, Kempsmith continues to forge ahead in the industry. The well-known Kempsmith ruggedness, precision, speed and dependability are in keeping with modern high speed tools and methods.

FORECAST: a bright future at Harnischfeger!

• Diversified products, advanced engineering and world-wide markets promise a secure future at P&H.

Today, the wide range of products manufactured by Harnischfeger finds use in the very foundations of America's economy. Our equipment is utilized and widely accepted by industries that are the mainstay of our national prosperity — construction, mining, earth-moving, industrial fabrication, materials handling, road building, diesel power and housing.

Against this background of diversification, broad horizons for individual advancement exist . . . in a wide variety of career fields . . . in an atmosphere of job security — making Harnischfeger a good place to work.

CARRY OUT SERVICE YOU GET "RED CARPET TREATMENT" AT NATIONAL

NATIONAL considers you a Very Important Person, and rolls out the red carpet to prove it! So don't touch that heavy load of groceries you've just bought — meet the NATIONAL carry-out boy and discover what service really is! He'll carry that load no matter how far away your car is parked — quickly, courteously, and with a smile.

You see, we want you to enjoy shopping at NATIONAL, and we try to make it easier and more pleasant in every way we can think of!

If you've never shopped at NATIONAL, please do — you've a treat in store. Not only will you be delighted with the fine quality grocery, produce and meat values you'll find — you'll be doubly-delighted with NATIONAL'S red carpet treatment. Which, incidentally, doesn't cost a penny more!

aluminum bronzes are cast in many foundries, but ...there's only one AMPCO* Metal

IT'S mighty difficult to tell the inner worth of an alloy by looking at its outside. One thing you can count on, however, is the fact that Ampco always means quality, because we've built a world-wide reputation by being specialists in copper-base alloys.

Even in the hurry-up-and-get-it-over-with tempo of today, we don't permit "short-cuts" when making Ampco Metal. It's subject to control after control, test after test. When we're through with it, it's tops . . . a metal designed to stand up in spots where it encounters excessive wear and conditions of abrasion, erosion, and corrosion. It's always dependable.

Ampco Metal is not made from commercial ingot but from virgin metals obtained to rigid specifications and alloyed in Ampco's foundries under strict laboratory controls. We're the only people who produce Ampco Metal.

Ampco employs top engineering graduates from Marquette University. They have found it an enjoyable place to work.
